"I always enjoy it a lot!" says Milagros about the rice, beans, and pasta she eats at school.

More Than Just a Meal

Thank you for feeding students' bodies, minds, and hearts

No matter where you are in the world, a meal is never just a meal.

Whether it's family dinner at the end of a workday here in Canada or lunch for students at La Amistad School in Asunción, Paraguay—a meal is so much more than food.

For Milagros, a student at La Amistad, when she has a full belly, she can concentrate each day on her work. And when she can concentrate on her work, she can grow relationships and get the help she needs from others.

"I think it is a very good school," Milagros reflects. "Because the teachers care a lot about their students and they teach very well. I also talk to the teachers I trust. When I feel bad, I tell them, and they always help me."

Thanks to you, our support community, students like Milagros will keep having many, many more meals at school. This summer, you raised almost $40,000 for students' meals! Thank you for your generosity!

She's Still Making a Splash!

In July 2025, we shared the story of Jacey, a student at White Dove School in Chamelecón, Honduras. From the doctor's initial prognosis that she would never walk or talk, to becoming a competitive swimmer and succeeding in school—her determination and perseverance are truly inspiring!

Now, a little over a year later, things are still coming along swimmingly for her! Thanks to your generous support, she's still in school, and soon, she'll be headed to Guatemala for a swimming competition.

Maybe she'll go to university after school and study medicine, but she's not sure yet. Wherever she goes, though, she'll have God and your prayers by her side.

Things are coming along swimmingly for Jacey, thanks to supporters like you!

God is Using You to Help Students in Need

"Esteban is not embarrassed to serve the Lord," says his mom!

Thanks to your support, Esteban now gets to go to his dream school: El Buen Pastor!

"Mom, why don't I study at El Buen Pastor?"

"No, love. There are expenses. We'll see later on."

This was the conversation Maciel would have with her son, Esteban, over and over. Day in and day out, he would see the students from El Buen Pastor school witness the love, joy, and kindness that radiated from the school.

Then he would see the fights at his own school. He would stay in the classroom during breaks, eating his snacks alone, afraid of getting involved in "bad things," as he described it.

"Mom, I don't want to go to class today. The school is not Christian. I don't want to be here, Mom. Take me out of this school," he would say.

"We'll see, we'll see," would be all Maciel could tell him in reply, all the while desperately wishing she could make his Christian school dreams come true. She could only comfort him by saying, "at least the education is good there and your brothers went there."

Because the school fees at the Christian school were just too high for Maciel to manage. Many times, she struggles to make sure there's enough money to stretch to the end of the month and pay the bills.

"But in the end," she says with confidence, "everything is resolved with God's help."

Just recently, God used you, our support community, to help Maciel and Esteban. His tuition fees have been covered and his dream of going to El Buen Pastor School in Managua, Nicaragua will be fulfilled.

Now he'll get a good (even great!) education and the love of God in every lesson and subject. He won't be afraid to play with his fellow students and he'll have teachers who model Christ.

Thank you for helping Esteban and Maciel. Thank you for giving generously to help many other students who dream of going to Christian schools. Thank you!

What Do You Want Your Legacy to Be?

Your love and generosity can carry on for generations through a gift in your Will

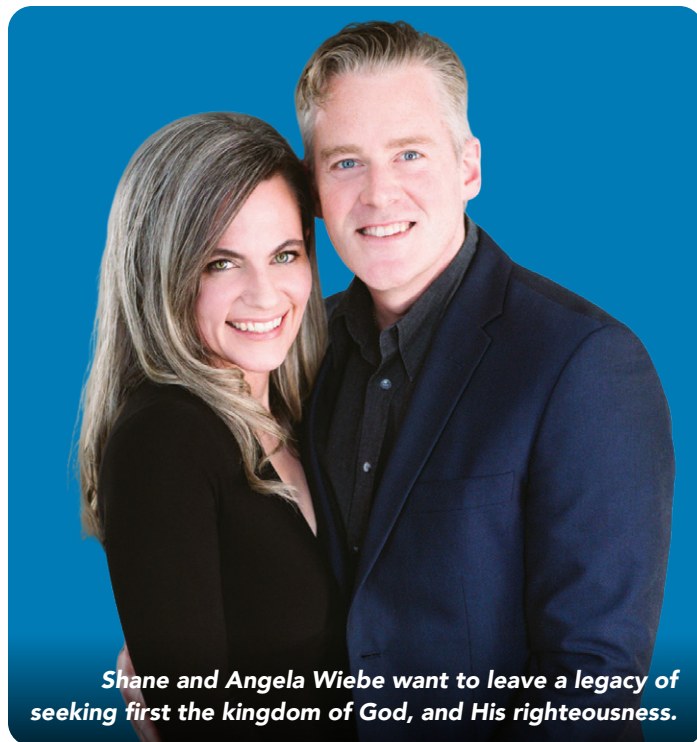

You may recognize Shane and Angela Wiebe from their ongoing partnership with Generation Rising. Maybe you even went to one of their concerts this past summer! We recently sat down with them to talk about something a little different: their Will, and how they want to honour God for generations to come.

Why is it important for you to have a will in place?

My [Shane's] father passed away when I was in high school; I've seen first hand the importance of a well planned will. It is good stewardship of life to be prepared for one's own death.

You've chosen to include charitable organizations among the beneficiaries of your will. Why was that important to you? And why did you choose Generation Rising as one of the organizations?

We want to actively live out Jesus' words: "Seek first the Kingdom of God, and His righteousness". We've seen a level of financial stewardship from Generation Rising that has deeply impressed me. We've witnessed their leadership being courageous and bold in the name of Jesus, but while marrying that with biblical wisdom and fiscal responsibility.

Furthermore, there are widespread tax advantages in Canada for being generous to organizations like Generation Rising.

For someone who has thought about leaving a charitable gift in their will but hasn't made that decision yet, what would you say to them?

Let us be blunt: just do it! Unfinished business is a profound contributor to stress. Let's say you put Generation Rising down for a certain percentage, or even a lump sum, of the estate. You can always change it later if you wish, but for now, don't let 'discouraged perfectionism' dictate your next move. Just do it!

Would you like to join Shane and Angela in 'seeking first the kingdom of God and His righteousness'?
