Your Choice of Career

If you are young, you are facing one of the greatest challenges of your life: the choice of life work. For the next 40 or 50 years, you will be spending at least a third of your life into that work.

How do you go about choosing a career that will bring you happiness, satisfaction, and many other rewards that go with choosing the right career?

Many factors go into that choice. But one factor career experts all agree upon is: The truest satisfaction comes from work that lets you make a difference in the lives of others.

Father James Keller, the founder of the Christophers, told young people "God has put some of his own power into your hands. He has work that He wants you and only you to do. The upper most thought to your mind should be: How shall I best serve God and my fellow man?"

No one has greater influence in helping their children than their parents. You can help them make career choices by setting an example of service to others in your church or community. Encouraging your children to do likewise. Getting to know your child's interests and abilities. Building their sense of confidence and self-worth. Introducing your children to adults in stimulating and happy careers.

So, the best advise we can give our young people in choosing a career is pray to God for guidance, talk it over with your parents and friends, work hard in school, and above all be happy. No matter what career you choose – be happy, productive and make a difference in the world.
