Amiri is a luxury Los Angeles-based rock 'n' roll clothing brand that has gained a significant following among fashion enthusiasts. Founded by Mike Amiri, the brand's pieces are hand-decorated or distressed, with some being fired at with a shotgun to achieve a unique effect. Justin Bieber is one of its notable fans. Prior to his fashion career, Mike Amiri had a rich music background, co-composing and performing with the Korean hip-hop group Drunken Tiger, which predated K-Pop by several years. The brand initially gained attention for its meticulous approach to jeans production, where denim is meticulously taken apart, reassembled, and embellished with patchwork or Swarovski crystal. The result is a unique piece of clothing that can take months to complete, making each pair a true reflection of the owner's style. Amiri's design studio in Los Angeles serves as both a creative hub and a workshop where all clothing is constructed using atelier tailoring techniques, bringing high-end French fashion sensibilities to streetwear staples. When it comes to sizing, Amiri's jeans are intentionally cut for a super-skinny fit, but customers can opt for a more relaxed look by going up a size. For other clothing items, the brand recommends sizing up from standard sizes to achieve a looser fit. The brand offers a comprehensive sizing guide to help customers find their ideal fit. Amiri is a luxury fashion brand founded by American designer Mike Amiri, who began his career designing for iconic hard rock artists like Axl Rose and Steven Tyler. After launching his own label in 2014, the brand has become known for its high-quality jeans with a unique used look, as well as accessories such as belts, slides, hats, and shoes. The Amiri shoe size chart measures from end to end. For men, there are four different fits: Slim Fit, Straight Fit, and Skinny Fit. The measurements include waist, high hip, low hip, front rise, back rise, and inseam. For women, there is only one fit: Straight Fit. Measurements include flat waistband, high hip, low hip, front rise, back rise, and inseam. Amiri Shoes Review: Comfort, Durability, and Care Instructions Amiri Shoes come true to size, but some half sizes fit true to size as well. To achieve a less tight fit, choose half a size up. The luxury sneakers from Amiri are very comfortable for short distances and long walks. They do not come in children's sizes, starting from EU 35, US 5, and UK 2. Cleaning the shoes is easy with a delicate cycle on the washing machine using cold water. Avoid using bleach or tumble drying and air dry instead. The laces can be washed by hand or in a linen bag for best results. For better cleaning, use a bowl with soft detergent, water, and a brush to gently clean your sneakers.
