WinTV for Windows 10: Fixing Video Camera Issues and Troubleshooting Guide The latest version of Windows 10 has introduced a known "feature" that affects video cameras, TV tuners, and video recorders. To fix this issue, users can rely on the automatic driver updates provided by WinTV v10, WinTV v8.5, WinTV v8, and Hauppauge Capture. Hauppauge Support is available at support@hauppauge.co.uk for any questions or concerns. The Proinfo.exe program provides information about the installed WinTV product, including model and serial number, MAC address, revision, and features. To troubleshoot weak TV reception using an over-the-air TV antenna, users can refer to the Digital Signal Monitor page, which displays the relative strength of the digital signal on the channel being tuned. The instructions on this page also guide users on how to wipe out the WinTV channel database and start a new scan if local TV broadcasters change their broadcast frequencies or users are not getting all expected TV channels. WinTV is Hauppauge's TV application for Windows PCs, offering TV in a window, picture-in-picture, or full-screen modes. WinTV Extend allows live TV streaming on iPads, iPhones, Android phones, tablets, PCs, and Macs via Wi-Fi or the Internet. Key features of WinTV v10 include: * New user interface for Windows 8 and Windows 10 * Closed captions and Parental control (North America) * Integrated TV recording scheduler * Multiple tuner support with picture-in-picture and record multiple TV programs * Signal strength monitor for digital TV channels * Live TV and recording playback controls, including fast skip options If you don't have an Activation Code or original WinTV v7 CD-ROM, you can buy a new activation code and CD-ROM from the Hauppauge webstore for $9.95. This will activate WinTV v8.5, which can also be used to install WinTV v10 with an unused code. Note that certain products like WinTV-HVR-850, HVR-950, Colossus, or HD PVR model 1212 require WinTV v8 or v10. For these products, a WinTV v8.5 activation code is needed for installation. If you don't have an Activation Code but have a WinTV v7 CD, you can install the WinTV v8 application. Hauppauge sells new WinTV v10 Activation Codes for $12.95, which can be used with various products including WinTV-HVR, WinTV-dual, and WinTV-quad, as well as HD recorders like USB-Live2 and ImpactVCBe. When installing WinTV v8.5 on multiple computers, use the same Hauppauge device and activation code to link the serial number of your TV tuner with the Activation code. WinTV v8 has intuitive controls for simple channel management. The tools menu provides a comprehensive overview of your TV features. You can easily view your available channels and make necessary adjustments to receive them clearly, including rescan settings.
