

Click to verify

Elden ring sellen questline guide

Sorceress Sellen is one of several NPCs in Elden Ring with a side quest to complete. This section explains where to find her, how to start her questline, and the consequences of your choices. Initially, Sorceress Sellen can be found in the Waypoint Ruins in Limgrave. To access her room, you'll need to fight a Pumpkin Head boss first. Once inside, introduce yourself to Sorceress Sellen and accept her offer to become her apprentice. As you find Glintstone Sorcery Scrolls, give them to her to unlock new sorcery options. You will then need to continue your journey until you reach the Mt. Gelmir region of the Altus Plateau. In this area, find a Site of Grace called Primeval Sorcerer Azur and speak to him. He'll give you Azur's Comet. Return to Sellen in Waypoint Ruins and choose the new dialogue option "show Azur's sorcery." Sorceress Sellen shares her story with you, explaining how she was exiled from the Academy of Raya Lucaria. She asks for your help with the Primal Glintstone. You can respond by saying "let us journey together" or "let me think about it." If you choose to journey with Sellen, she'll ask you to find Master Lusat and give you the Sellian Sealbreaker. To find Lusat's location, speak with Sellen again, asking for a lead. She'll tell you that he returned to his home in Sellia, Town of Sorcery. To reach Sellia, enter the Fort Faroth area in Caelid, navigating through the Church of the Plague to find an illusory wall with a hidden path. Inside, find a large blue seal and use the Sellian Sealbreaker to break it. This will grant you access to Lusat's room. Speaking to Master Lusat here will give you the Stars of Ruin. Return to Waypoint Ruins, telling Sellen where Lusat is located. She'll reward you with Starlight Shards, mentioning that she wishes she could take back the bodies of Lusat and Azur to the Academy. After defeating Starscourge Radahn, new dialogue options with Sellen become available; if you've already beaten him, reload the area to access these options. Otherwise, take care of it now and return to Sellen in Waypoint Ruins. She requests another favor, explaining that her current form isn't her true body, and asks you to find her real body on the Weeping Peninsula. To progress her quest, head to Witchbane Ruins, where you'll find Sellen shackled in the dungeon; speak with her, and she'll give you her Primal Glintstone for safekeeping. Next, you must locate her third form by progressing through Ranni's Questline and accessing Seluvis's Secret Chamber. Find the hidden chamber east of Ranni's Rise, enter, and roll against the far wall to reveal an illusory wall; behind it, you'll find Sellen imprisoned. You can then choose to "transplant the Primal Glintstone," allowing this iteration of Sellen to reanimate and gain freedom of movement. She plans to return to the Academy of Raya Lucaria. To complete her journey, travel back to Redmane Castle and speak with Castellan Jerren; he'll note that with Radahn defeated, he's no longer bound to stay at the castle. You can now find him in Witchbane Ruins, where he'll be overlooking Sellen's body, surrounded by blood. Exhaust his dialogue, then fast travel to Raya Lucaria to conclude Sellen's questline. At the Raya Lucaria Grand Library, you'll find two summoning stones; a red one allows you to challenge Sorceress Sellen, while a gold one lets you assist her. If you challenge Sellen, you'll side with Castellan Jerren, and defeating her will reward you with the Witch's Glintstone Crown, Sellen's Bell Bearing, and an Ancient Dragon Smithing Stone from Jerren; however, this will prevent you from obtaining Lusat's or Azur's armor sets. To assist Sorceress Sellen, you'll need to fight alongside her against Witch-Hunter Jerren in the Grand Library. Defeating him rewards you with the opportunity to speak with Sellen again, granting the Sellen Glintstone Kris and adding the Shard Spiral sorcery to her inventory. To progress, retrieve Lusat's and Azur's armor sets from their bodies on Mt. Gelmir and Sellia. Once back in the Grand Library, find Sellen transformed into a School of Graven Mages. She will be sitting next to her Witch's Glintstone Crown, available for purchase despite her new form. Sorceress Sellen can be found fairly early in Elden Ring, near the Waypoint Ruins in Limgrave. Her quest will take you across the Lands Between, intersecting with other characters and revealing secrets about a chained-up figure at Witchbane Ruins. To begin with Sellen, navigate to Waypoint Ruins and complete tasks such as finding every item and defeating Mad Pumpkin Head, an early game boss. Use the Spirit-Calling Bell to summon Spirit Ashes during fights, making it easier to defeat Mad Pumpkin Head. Sellen's quest cannot be progressed until you've reached the Altus Plateau by beating Raya Lucaria and reaching the Academy of Raya Lucaria. To continue, find Azur on Mt. Gelmir, past Hermit Village, and navigate through the Wyndham Ruins and Seethewater River to reach Fort Laiedd and ultimately Hermit Village. To complete Sellen's quest, first defeat Demi-Human Queen Maggie on Caelid's north side. Next, find Primeval Sorcerer Azur's site of grace and meet him to obtain the Comet Azur spell. Return to Sellen to learn more about her interest in taboo glintstone sorcery, but she'll need your help finding one of her teachers. This will lead you to the Sellian Sealbreaker key. Sellen suggests Lusat might be hidden near Sellia, Town of Sorcery, which is located east of Caelid's eastern region. You can reach Sellia Hideaway dungeon by completing a puzzle or by jumping into its entrance from Fort Faroth. Once inside, navigate through illusory walls and find the large tombstone guarded by a sorcerer with an item on a corpse below it. Attack the cliff face behind this to access the dungeon. Continue past several more illusory barriers until you reach a room with walkways over a chasm. From there, head downward and locate the tunnel guarded by a sorcerer that leads to Lusat's location. After completing these steps, return to Sellen for further dialogue. However, this isn't the end of your journey yet. You'll need to prepare for another lengthy detour by defeating Starscourge Radahn in Redmane Castle if you haven't done so already. The mighty Radahn has halted the stars' movement, and it's up to you to stop him now that he's caused the fates of all sorcerers to become intertwined. After your battle with Radahn, speak with his castellan, Jerren, who will provide you with more information about Sellen's true nature. To uncover the truth about your beloved teacher, meet her at Witchbane Ruins in southern Limgrave where she is imprisoned. She'll give you an item called Sellen's Primal Glintstone which is essentially her literal essence. If Jerren doesn't appear when reloading the area, try speaking with him again after traveling back to Redmane Castle. He'll reveal that Sellen was responsible for the deaths of countless sorcerers and also express his doubts about her actual demise. To prove him right and complete Sellen's quest once and for all, follow these steps: 1. Visit Seluvis's creepy basement within eyesight of Ranni's Rise by finding an illusory floor that hides a staircase in some ruins. 2. Down the stairs, past another fake wall, you'll find Sellen's lifeless body. Give it the Primal Glintstone to revive her. This is one of the key steps for completing the Seluvis questline as well. To complete Sorceress Sellen's quest, give her the Glintstone Sorcery Scrolls you've collected. This will unlock new sorcery options for her. Continue your journey through the world until you reach the Mt. Gelmir region in the Altus Plateau. There, find the key item needed to progress her quest at the Hermit Village's farthest end. Interact with a Site of Grace called Primeval, which will allow you to proceed. The final leg of Sellen's journey takes place within Raya Lucaria's Grand Library. Defeat Rennala to gain access and then revive Sellen. You'll find two summon signs outside the library: one red and one gold. Choose a side by interacting with either sign. If you side with Sellen, she will remain in the Grand Library and give you the Glintstone Kris dagger and sell the Shard Spiral sorcery. You can also collect her Witch's Glintstone Crown and learn its true price when reloading the area. If you side with Jerren, you'll receive his Eccentric Armor Set and a valuable upgrade stone, but miss out on Sellen's glintstone dagger and Azur and Lusat's armor sets. Regardless of your choice, you've completed Sellen's story and can now access more NPC questlines, such as Varre, Nepheli, Fia, and Blaid's guides. Sellen, a former teacher of Azur, gives you Azur's Comet upon speaking with him. You then return to the Waypoint Ruins and choose to show Azur's sorcery. Sellen tells you that she gave you the comet because she sees potential in you. She shares her story, which includes being exiled from Raya Lucaria Academy, and asks for your help retrieving the Primal Glintstone. If you accept to journey with Sellen, Master Lusat will be found, and you'll receive the Sellian Sealbreaker. To proceed, you need to find the location of Lusat's body, which is in the Sellia Hideaway on the Weeping Peninsula. After finding it, return to the Waypoint Ruins and tell Sellen where Lusat is located. Sellen will give you Starlight Shards in return and mention that she believes her body needs to be taken back to the Academy. You'll need to have defeated Starscourge Radahn to open up new dialogue options with Sellen. After progressing through Radahn's questline, Sellen will ask for your help finding her true body, which is located in the Witchbane Ruins on the Weeping Peninsula. Sellen will give you her Primal Glintstone, but to continue her quest, you'll need to find Seluvis's Secret Chamber. This location can be accessed by progressing Ranni's Questline and accessing Seluvis's Secret Chamber for the next leg of Sellen's journey. Sellen's Questline: A Journey to Freedom and Betrayal Located east of Ranni's Rise, players can access the Seluvis questline. Upon entering the hidden chamber, they will find Sellen imprisoned behind an illusory wall. By "transplanting" the Primal Glintstone, Sellen will reanimate, allowing her to regain freedom. The next step in Sellen's journey requires traveling back to Redmane Castle, where Castellan Jerren awaits. He will reveal that with Radahn defeated, he is no longer bound to stay at the castle. Players can now find him in Witchbane Ruins, overseeing Sellen's body surrounded by blood. Exhausting Jerren's dialogue and fast-traveling to Raya Lucaria will bring an end to Sellen's questline. In Raya Lucaria, players will encounter two summoning stones with distinct effects: one for challenging Sorceress Sellen or assisting her against Witch-Hunter Jerren. Defeating Sellen rewards the Witch's Glintstone Crown and Sellen's Bell Bearing, but due to betrayal, Lusat's and Azur's armor sets are unavailable. Alternatively, players can choose to assist Sellen, leading to a confrontation with Witch-Hunter Jerren in the Grand Library. This path rewards additional items, including the Sellen Glintstone Kris and Shard Spiral sorcery. Following this path, players must retrieve Lusat's and Azur's armor sets from their former locations before returning to the Grand Library to find Sellen transformed into a School of Graven Mages, now offering the Witch's Glintstone Crown as an item for sale. To gain access to Sorceress Sellen's room, defeat the Pumpkin Head boss in the underground arena located at the back of the area. Once inside, introduce yourself to Sellen and accept her offer to become her apprentice. As you gather Glintstone Sorcery Scrolls, give them to her to unlock new sorcery options. After completing your journey to the Mt. Gelmir region on the Altus Plateau, find the necessary key item in Hermit Village. Speak with Primeval Sorcerer Azur at a Site of Grace called Primeval Sorcerer Azur and receive Azur's Comet. Return to Sellen in the Waypoint Ruins and choose the dialogue option "show Azur's sorcery." Azur will reveal his past, explaining how he was exiled from the Academy of Raya Lucaria. He asks for your help with the Primal Glintstone. Sellen will ask you to find Master Lusat and give you the Sellian Sealbreaker. To do this, follow the instructions on the Sellia Hideaway page of this guide. Inside the hideout, use the Sellian Sealbreaker on a large blue seal at the bottom of the cave to break it. This will allow you into the room where you'll find Lusat. Upon finding Lusat, return to Sellen and tell her about his location. She'll reward you with Starlight Shards and mention that she wishes she could undo those shackles. To unlock new dialogue options, defeat Starscourge Radahn. If you've already completed this task, reloading the area will open up new options with Sellen. Don't be fooled - the form before you is not Sellen's true body. Instead, she awaits you on the Weeping Peninsula, hidden in the Witchbane Ruins. Head to the western side of the peninsula, just south of the Fourth Church of Marika, and find her shackled in the dungeon. Once freed, she'll entrust you with her Primal Glintstone. Next, track down Seluvis's Secret Chamber, located east of Ranni's Rise, where Sellen awaits imprisoned. Transplant the Primal Glintstone to free her, then return to Redmane Castle and speak with Castellan Jerren, who'll reveal that Radahn defeated means he's no longer bound to stay at the castle. Find him overlooking Sellen's blood-soaked body in Witchbane Ruins or Raya Lucaria Grand Library. Here, you can engage Sellen in a fight, siding with Castellan Jerren and earning rewards like the Witch's Glintstone Crown and Ancient Dragon Smithing Stone, or aid her against Witch-Hunter Jerren for additional loot. Given article text here Purchase inventory.Head back to Mt. Gelmir and Sellia to retrieve Lusat's and Azur's respective armor sets from where their bodies once lay. Return to the Grand Library of Raya Lucaria to find Sellen, who has transformed into a School of Graven Mages and sits next to her Witch's Glintstone Crown. She remains available as a merchant selling sorceries, despite her new form. Follow Sorceress Sellen in Waypoint Ruins in Limgrave, where you'll need to defeat a Pumpkin Head boss to access her room. Upon introducing yourself, she offers to teach you sorcery and accepts you as an apprentice. Continue your journey until reaching the Mt. Gelmir region of the Altus Plateau to find the necessary key item for Sellen's quest. In Hermit Village, find Primeval Sorcerer Azur at a Site of Grace called Primeval Sorcerer Azur, where he gives Azur's Comet. Return to Waypoint Ruins and choose the new dialogue option "show Azur's sorcery." Azur was Sellen's first teacher, and she shares her story of being exiled from Raya Lucaria and asks for your help with Primal Glintstone. You can choose to journey together or decline. If you journey with Sellen, she'll ask you to find Master Lusat and gives the Sellian Sealbreaker. To proceed, explore Sellia Hideaway in Caelid, using the Sellian Sealbreaker to break a large blue seal. This will allow access to the room where you can continue Sellen's quest. To complete Sellen's questline, start by speaking with her in Waypoint Ruins after informing her of Lusat's location. She will give you Starlight Shards and mention that she wants to take back Lusat and Azur's bodies to the Academy, but is unable to due to "shackles." You must have defeated Starscourge Radahn to proceed with Sellen's new dialogue options; reloading the area if necessary. Next, head to the Witchbane Ruins on the Weeping Peninsula to find Sorceress Sellen shackled in the dungeon. After freeing her, she will entrust you with her Primal Glintstone. To continue Sellen's quest, locate Seluvis's Secret Chamber, which is accessible after progressing through Ranni's Questline and accessing the chamber for its next leg. Inside, you'll find an illusory wall behind which Sellen is imprisoned. Transplanting the Primal Glintstone will allow her to reanimate. Finally, return to Redmane Castle and speak with Castellan Jerren, who notes that Radahn's defeat allows him to leave the castle. He can be found in Witchbane Ruins, overlooking Sellen's body now surrounded by blood. Exhaust his dialogue and fast travel to Raya Lucaria, where you'll find the end of Sellen's questline. If you're having trouble locating Jerren or Sellen's body is surrounded by blood, he has likely already moved on to Raya Lucaria. Challenging Sorceress Sellen offers two paths: fight alongside Castellan Jerren or aid her in battle against Witch-Hunter Jerren. Defeating Sellen yields the Witch's Glintstone Crown and Bell Bearing, while Jerren rewards with an Ancient Dragon Smithing Stone. However, due to your decision, you'll miss out on Lusat's and Azur's armor sets. Alternatively, choosing to assist Sellen summons her in a fight against Jerren at the Grand Library. Victory grants you the Sellen Glintstone Kris and adds Shard Spiral sorcery to her inventory. Afterward, return to Mt. Gelmir and Sellia to retrieve the armor sets from their former locations. Finally, revisit the Grand Library to find Sellen has transformed into a School of Graven Mages, now sitting next to her Witch's Glintstone Crown while still offering sorceries for sale.

Elden ring explained. Sorceress sellen - questline. Elden ring селена где найти. Elden ring тело селены. Elden ring квест селен. Elden ring requirements. Elden ring features. Sellen quest guide. Elden ring how long to beat. Elden ring description.