Message from His HOLINESS POPE FRANCIS

At the dawn of this New Year given to us by our heavenly Father, I offer heartfelt good wishes of peace to every man and woman. I think especially of those who feel downtrodden, burdened by their past mistakes, oppressed by the judgment of others and incapable of perceiving even a glimmer of hope for their own lives. Upon everyone I invoke hope and peace.

Each of us must feel in some way responsible for the devastation to which the earth, our common home, has been subjected, beginning with those actions that, albeit only indirectly, fuel the conflicts that presently plague our human family. Systemic challenges, distinct yet interconnected, are thus created and together cause havoc in our world. I think, in particular, of all manner of disparities, the inhuman treatment meted out to migrants, environmental decay, the confusion willfully created by disinformation, the refusal to engage in any form of dialogue and the immense resources spent on the industry of war.

All these, taken together, represent a threat to the existence of humanity as a whole. At the beginning of this year, then, we desire to heed the plea of suffering humankind in order to feel called, together and as individuals, to break the bonds of injustice and to proclaim God's justice. Sporadic acts of philanthropy are not enough. Cultural and structural changes are necessary, so that enduring change may come about.

His Grace
Most Rev. Gabriel 'Leke
Abegunrin
Catholic Archbishop of Ibadan

Pease be with you!

As we come to the close of another year, we reflect on the enduring efforts aimed at making the world a better and more just place. The work of the Justice, Development and Peace Commission (JDPC) continues to embody the teachings of the Church, advocating tirelessly for the rights of the oppressed, fostering sustainable development, and promoting peace and reconciliation within our communities.

I wholeheartedly commend the outstanding efforts of JDPC Ibadan, along with its dedicated collaborators, for the significant accomplishments achieved over the past year. Their work has not only defended human dignity but also advanced the common good, standing up for the welfare of the poor and vulnerable.

In a world where rapid changes are sweeping across nations, and where, particularly in our own Nigeria, the living conditions of many continue to worsen daily, the role of the JDPC is ever more critical. Families struggle to meet their basic needs, and individuals face increasing hardships. It is in these dark times that the light of justice, the voice of the voiceless, and the defense of the oppressed must shine even brighter. This is where the mission of the Commission, and indeed every well-meaning person, becomes a beacon of hope and transformation.

As we celebrate our accomplishments, we must also renew our commitment to the journey ahead. The road is fraught with challenges, but we are sustained by the power of God's love, which remains our guiding light. Let us continue to strive for a world where justice and peace are not lofty ideals but living realities. Let us press forward with renewed vigor as we work to build God's kingdom here on earth.

May the Lord bless each of us with His peace.

Message from
THE DIRECTOR
REV. FR. CHARLES
AJIBAYE

With immense gratitude and great pleasure, I present the 2024 Annual Report of the Justice, Development, and Peace Commission (JDPC) Ibadan to our esteemed, donors , partners and stakeholders. As we step into another year of service, we reflect on our unwavering commitment to justice, human dignity, and social transformation.

For over 15 years, JDPC Ibadan has remained dedicated to promoting prison welfare, inmate support, agriculture, democracy and governance, and legal aid. Our work would not be possible without the invaluable support of our partners, volunteers, and stakeholders. Together, we have made significant strides in advancing our mission. In the past year, we achieved the following milestones:

- Provided educational materials—including school bags, uniforms, sandals, and books—to 500 street children.
- Covered NECO examination fees for 18 students at Agodi Correctional Centre.
- Rehabilitated 25 survivors of human trafficking, helping them reintegrate into society.
- Facilitated community service sentencing for 1,461 offenders, reducing the burden on overcrowded correctional facilities.
- Empowered [number] women farmers with the resources and training needed to enhance their agricultural productivity.
- Empowerment of some indigent women to access loan facilities for their business

These accomplishments among many others not mentioned here reflect our shared vision of a just and equitable society. As we forge ahead, we remain committed to expanding our impact and deepening our interventions in service to those who need them most.

We extend our heartfelt appreciation to all who have contributed to our mission; Firstly our legal holder Archbishop Gabriel Abegunrin for His unflinching support; we equally acknowledge and recognize the unwavering support of all our donors and partners; your support and assistance fuels our progress and inspires our continued dedication to justice and community development.

On behalf of the staff and management of JDPC IBADAN I say a big thank you and God bless

COMMUNITY
PROGRAM

COMMUNITY SERVICE AS ALTERNATIVE TO IMPRISONMENT

In Oyo state, as with many other states of the federation, imprisonment is the main punishment for convicted offenders and the main tool for holding criminal suspects pending the determination of their cases. However, given the many problems associated with prison such as overcrowding, communicable diseases, rape et al., and the tendency for first and minor offenders to be hardened; the Justice Development and Peace Commission (JDPC-Ibadan) proposed Community Service as a worthy alternative to imprisonment.

Community Service is a form of restorative justice where the offender makes compensation for offences committed. Committers of minor, petty or non-serious offences are made to give mandatory services to their communities. With community service, offenders have the opportunity of retaining their jobs; they are prevented from being influenced negatively by convicts of serious offences; and the stigma of being addressed as ex-prisoners is removed and offenders can easily reintegrate into society after serving their terms.

PROJECT GOAL

To contribute towards improving the efficiency, effectiveness, and humaneness of Nigeria's criminal justice system

OBJECTIVES

The Community Service Scheme in Oyo State is Sustainable, and its operation is enhanced.

A psychosocial support system is established to promote effective reformation and integration of offenders in Oyo State.

Promote the adoption of a Community Service scheme in another State in South-West Nigeria.

CD
CARITAS
DESK

To reduce the deplorable living condition of the Agodi inmates and facilitate legal help, release and family support for them.

To improve the living conditions of the indigent persons, including ex-inmates.

To promote peaceful coexistence in families and among all people.

To empower JDPC-Parish Promoters to function more effectively while they take up the issues of Justice and Peace.

To reduce the incidences of human trafficking in Oyo State through awareness creation and casework interventions.

To promote healthy living through enlightenment on environmental protection

To reduce the incidences of the transmission of HIV/ AIDS through sensitization, counselling and testing

PROGRAMME GOAL

That all may realize and appreciate the image of God in them and thus live positively, spread the positivity around and bring about the promotion of the kingdom of God.

Strategies

Inmates' Welfare

JDPC, Ibadan observed a clear and continuous increase in the number of inmates at Agodi Custodial Center. On 30th January, 2024, there were 1,252 inmates but by December 27th, 2024, the number had increased to 1,445 inmates for a Custodial Center that was originally meant to accommodate 390 inmates. The staggering number of lockup inmates displayed on the notice board is immediately seen as soon as one enters the Custodial Centre. Sadly, majority of those lockup inmates were youths in the prime of their lives.

The table below shows various services rendered to ameliorate their condition in the year 2024:

SERVICES RENDERED	NUMBER OF THE INMATES REACHED
General welfare /interactions during visitations to the inmates	948
Home tracing and linking with inmates' families and friends	270
Medical outreach	275 (Male-260 Female -15)
Distribution of toiletries (a pack of toothpaste and brush, antiseptic soap, and detergent to each inmate)	1,159
Inmates' cases reviewed and linked with JDPC Law- yers	60
Inmates assisted after released	16
Christmas celebration / feeding of the inmates	1467 inmates and 208 staff

SUCCESS STORIES

ACCESS TO JUSTICE IN RURAL AND URBAN COMMUNITIES OF OYO STATE RECEIVED A BOOST IN 2024

Democracy and Human Rights Programme (DHRP) of Justice Development and Peace Commission (JDPC), Ibadan trained new sets of community paralegals in Igangan and Ibadan on how to facilitate access to justice in rural communities, as well as increase the communities' access to justice in Ibadan, from 20th to 22nd of February and 5th to 7th of March 2024, respectively.

Twenty Seven (27) persons (6 females and 21 males) were trained from Igangan, Tapa, Ayete and Eleede. In Ibadan, thirty five (35) participants (26 males, 12 females) were trained.

The paralegals acquired knowledge and skills in Sources of Nigerian Law; Ethics of Paralegals; Mediation; handling Sexual and Gender Based Violence; and Report Writing, among other topics.

After the training in Igangan, JDPC Officers and representatives of the Paralegals paid advocacy visits to two Traditional Leaders and two Divisional Police Officers on the 22nd and 23rd February, and met both the Asi-Gangan and Elempe of Tapa.

JDPC Ibadan Team on a courtesy visit to the Asi-Gangan to intimate him of the trained Paralegals

The two traditional leaders were very pleased with the training especially with some of their chiefs who benefitted from the training.

In his remarks, the Asi-Gagan stated that he wished more chiefs would be trained and noted that that the training would reduce their burden of settling disputes in the palace.

The Police Officers in Igangan and Ayete, respectively expressed happiness and said that the training of paralegals would reduce the simple cases being reported in the station.

The training has started yielding results because available records show that 104 cases had been resolved by the trained community paralegals. The paralegals comprising the youths and older persons live and carry out the functions of dispute resolution and community enlightenment.

LOBBY AND ADVOCACY RESULTED IN DEVELOPMENT

Picture showing collapsed bridge across Otufe River along Okebi village with community members filling the edges with rocks to aid passage of vehicles

The villages along Okebi axis in Ayete, Ibarapa North Local Government Area of Oyo State had suffered tremendous neglect for many decades due to poor road network.

Following persistent heavy rainfall few years ago, the Otufe bridge collapsed and severed the major link between the villages and the main market in the town.

The collapsed Otufe Bridge is a vital link to 25 villages with an estimated population of 70, 000 small scale farmers. The villages include Temidire, Okebi, Alaafia Oluwa, Gbangbangere, Abule Eleede, Idifa, Kajola, Aba Idere, Agbé, Awéé, Bello, Gbelékalè, Araromi, Dagbere, Konko, Onilaari, Abule-Gboko, Magbeje, Aba Church, Olukosi, Àtà, Ténté, Alasia, and Arepo. This has posed a severe challenge to transportation, trade and commerce in the area. A combination of poor road network and the collapsed bridge constrained transportation and caused significant losses of farm products such as cassava, tomatoes, watermelon, leafy vegetables, among other annual produce especially at the peak of rainy season because they cannot be transported to the markets for sale.

According to a farmer resident in one of the communities in Okebi, an estimated N25million is lost yearly on cassava production chain because the collapsed bridge has prevented farmers from transporting their farm produce to various markets for sale. This impediment has also posed a major concern to the farmers, the masses and stalled development in the area.

Through the consistent intervention of the Integrated Rural Community Development Project (IRCDP) of Justice Development and Peace Commission (JDPC) in the past few years, the farmers received training in self-help, lobbying and advocacy. These trainings empowered them to form a Community Development Association (CDA) which brought together, representatives from all the villages to collaboratively address common challenges. Armed with the acquired skills and knowledge gained from JDPC capacity building programs, the farmers' representatives (facilitated by Okebi Farmers Group) successfully lobbied the local government council for assistance in reconstructing the collapsed Otufe Bridge.

The farmers' efforts paid off as the local government contributed a significant sum of one million Naira (₦1,000,000) towards the project. The community played an equally vital role by pooling resources through contributions, donations and support from cheerful givers and individuals within and outside the area. They used the money for the reconstruction of the Otufe bridge brought down by a deluge of rainfall.

The reconstruction of the bridge is a testament to the power of collective action and grassroots advocacy. The farmers learned, through this experience, that self-help is a key strategy for timely intervention in addressing community problems while awaiting government's assistance.

This story highlights the transformative impact of capacity-building programs which empowers rural communities to take charge of their development by equipping the farmers with the tools to advocate for their needs. The intervention has not only restored a critical infrastructure, it has equally strengthened the bond among the villages, fostering a spirit of collaboration and resilience in tackling future challenges.

BIRTH OF A FORMIDABLE JOINT NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES (JONAPWD) IN OYO STATE

The leadership of persons with disabilities in Oyo State has gained more strength to function effectively. Their capacity was developed in leadership and advocacy, two major areas of competencies required for a vibrant and assertive association.

Through this capacity empowerment and the activity of the Agency for PWDs, the government approved the budget for the Agency; provided a bus that would be modified for PWDs only; and offered more slots in the ongoing recruitment of workers in the state,

JDPC, Ibadan achieved this by training the leaders of clusters of People With Disabilities

(PWD) in Oyo State. The group comprises National Association for the Blind (NAB); National Association for the Deaf; Spinal Cord Injuries Association of Nigeria; Albinos Association; and the Physically Challenged Association in May 2024. JDPC has also continued to mentor the leaders.

JONAPWD was able to develop its charter of demands and presented it to the Oyo State Governor Oluwaseyi Abiodun Makinde during the State Budget Consultative forum. The Association, for the first time, independently organized the celebration of International Day of Persons with Disabilities in Oyo State.

PATHWAY TO SELF-SUSTAINANCE

The Catfish Sustainability Project (CSP) of the Justice, Development and Peace Commission (JDPC), Ibadan, is dedicated to building farmers' capacities in aquaculture management practices.

Over the years, the project has focused on capacity building on aquaculture practices, building farmers structure to create a sustainable business model within the aquaculture industry and supporting farmers to increase productivity and profitability.

Lagun zone is one of the farmers' structures facilitated by the CSP intervention and the zonal structure is located in Lagelu local government area of Oyo state, southwest Nigeria. Apart from cropping activities, catfish production remains a lucrative business among the residents of the local government. The aquaculture sector has engaged the youth, women and men thereby reducing unemployment and improving household livelihood.

Despite the potentials in the aquaculture industry, the farmers are faced with diverse challenges such as insufficient fund to address members' needs, poor market prices and the exploitative activities of middlemen.

Realising these gaps, the CSP of the Justice Development and Peace Commission engaged small-scale farmers in adopting cooperative scheme

The success of LOPLFFC stands as a good example of how cooperative societies can transform agriculture by prioritizing collective action, fostered economic empowerment, and community growth towards sustainable development.

The story of Lagun Olodo Progressive Loveland Fish Farmers Cooperative (LOPLFFC) highlights how targeted interventions can inspire transformative change, build resilience and prosperity for communities in the aquaculture sector.

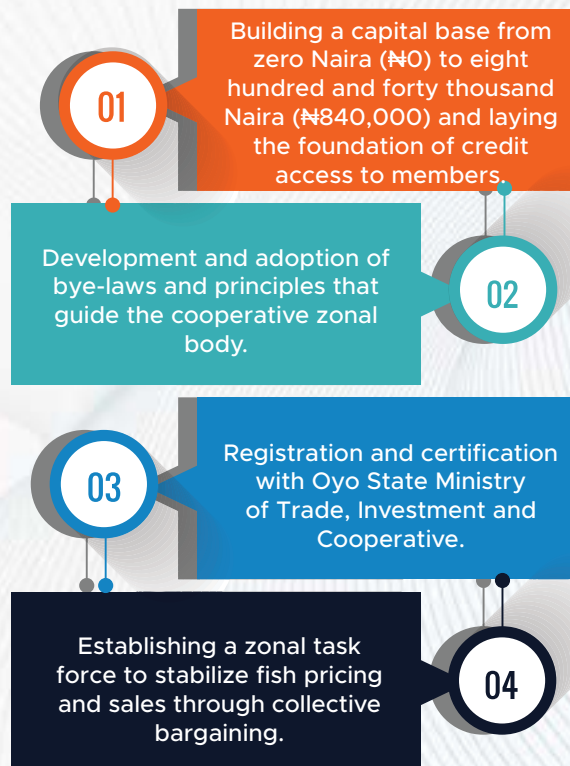

Fish Farmers who have adopted the contents of our trainings harvesting fish for test cropping in an earthen pond for internally generated funds to generate funds for members to have access to credit to fund their aquaculture activities, take joint decisions and actions to address common problems.

This initiative led to the formation of Lagun Olodo Progressive Loveland Fish Farmers Cooperative (LOPLFFC) which is the zonal initiative of the Lagun Zone fish farmers' groups. The zonal cooperative scheme was commissioned in March 2024 and registered with the Oyo State Ministry of Trade, Investment and Cooperative.

Through JDPC's capacity development and technical backstopping, the zonal group has been able to achieve the following:

JDPC FACILITATES ENROLLMENT OF 10,000 PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES BY OYO STATE HEALTH INSURANCE AGENCY

Justice Development and Peace Commission (JDPC), Ibadan has further promoted the well being of the vulnerable by facilitating the enrollment of Ten thousand (10,000) People with Disabilities (PWD) under the Basic Healthcare Provision Fund (BHC PF) with the Oyo State Health Insurance Agency (OYSHIA).

The enrollment was secured during the advocacy visit to the Executive Secretary, Oyo State Health Insurance Agency, Dr. Sola Akande at the Oyo State Secretariat, Agodi, Ibadan. Dr. Akande committed to enrolling 10,000 PWDs across the six clusters of PWD in the state.

The exercise kicked off at the Aperin/Oniyere High School at Orita Aperin on July 29, 2024 with beneficiaries drawn mostly from the Blind, Deaf, Albinos, Physically Challenged and Spinal Cord Injury.

Similar exercises carried out at Ibadan North local government area took place at the Cheshire School, Eleyele-Ijokodo Road and Methodist Grammar School for people with special needs particularly the physically challenged.

Registration exercise was also carried out in Oyo, to cover Oyo East, West and Afijio LGAs.

The same exercise also took place in Iseyin, Okeho and Eruwa to capture PWD members within the LGAs of the political zone.

As at the end of year 2024, almost 5,000 PWDs had been registered and formally enrolled for free medical services in Oyo State while effort is on-going to register the remaining 5,000 beneficiaries.

JDPC RESCUES COMMUNITIES FROM FLOOD

The communities of Ward 5 Egbeda Local Government Area can now heave a sigh of relief after the dredging of Ahere River, following JDPC's intervention. The dredging widened the water-channels and effectively checked the perennial flood that had been affecting the communities in the past few years.

In May 2024, Ahere River overflowed its banks and flooded the contiguous communities. As a result, many residents of the communities could not carry out their daily activities and the economy of the community was paralyzed.

Following the devastation of the flood, select-members of the affected communities approached JDPC and requested assistance.

JDPC immediately facilitated meetings with Hon. Sunkanmi Babalola, the State Lawmaker representing Egbeda Local government area. At the ensuing meetings the community members requested his assistance.

Hon. Babalola introduced members of the communities to Hon. Sikiru Sanda, the Chairman of Egbeda LGA who later released the council water dredging machine to the communities for proper dredging of all the rivers and streams within the Ward.

The machine was used to dredge Ahere, Egba, Omi rivers and stream within the Ward and was domiciled in the communities for almost two weeks. After the dredging of the rivers and streams in June, the community experienced heavy rainfall in the months of September and October but no flooding occurred and there has been no threat to the economic activities of the people in the communities.

COLLABORATIVE EFFORTS TOWARDS

FOSTERING PEACE AND FOOD SECURITY

Representatives of the Fulani Community in Ibarapaland during a group work session at the workshop on peaceful coexistence between herders and crop farmers held in Ibadan in October, 2024

Ibarapa land, located in the derived savanna of Oyo State, is a region renowned for agricultural richness. Ibarapa land cuts across three local governments of Ibarapa North, Ibarapa Central and Ibarapa East of Oyo State. The people are noted for the production of food crops such as cassava, maize, yam, tomatoes and pepper. The region also has a heavy presence of herdsman because of rich and lush vegetation.

Decades of tension between pastoralist and crop farmers over available limited resources (land and water) cast a shadow over unity and development. In the past, protracted conflict had resulted into hatred, killings and disunity among the community members and this has been posing a serious threat to food security and community development.

The Integrated Development Programme of the Justice, Development and Peace Commission through her intervention programme has gradually changed the narrative that is leading to peaceful coexistence and community development. Our groundbreaking intervention has sown the seeds of peace and collaboration that is fostering dialogue and building a foundation for lasting peace.

The journey began with a deliberate effort to understand the needs and challenges of pastoralist communities. Through baseline surveys, mapping, profiling and needs assessments, JDPC gained valuable insights into the dynamics of the conflict. It became clear that the most pressing need of the herders was fostering peaceful coexistence with crop farmers.

The information gathered played a pivotal role in designing the strategies for a meaningful and impactful intervention.

A community engagement tagged, “The paralegal training” that aims at strengthening legal knowledge and community collaboration provided participants with valuable knowledge about the Land Use Act, their rights, conflict analysis and effective conflict management strategies. It also created a safe space for dialogue, enabling both groups to voice their concerns and explore practical pathways to peace.

The training highlighted the benefits of peaceful coexistence, such as improved community development, economic growth and sustainable livelihoods.

The impact of the training was profound. Both herders and farmers expressed appreciation for the opportunity to learn and engage with one another on the basis of a newfound willingness and strong commitment to embrace peace.

One of the most remarkable moments came from the herders of Igboora, Eruwa and Lanlate, who returned to their communities with a renewed commitment to peace. They began spreading the message of coexistence, sharing lessons learned during the training and highlighting the mutual benefits of harmony and collaboration and how peace can pave the way for growth and stability.

Similarly, crop farmers embraced the possibility of a harmonious relationship, recognizing the potential for shared prosperity and community development, how unity could unlock mutual progress and improve livelihoods.

Today, a new chapter is being written in this region’s history as Ibarapa is witnessing the first step of transformative shift. This initiative has marked a turning point for the Ibarapa region.

The willingness of both pastoralists and farmers to adopt peaceful coexistence is laying the groundwork for a brighter future of peace and progress. Communities that had hitherto been divided by mistrust are now collaborating to build a region defined by harmony, growth and resilience.

This story is a testament to the power of understanding, dialogue, education and shared commitment in conflict resolution. It proves that with the right approach, even the most entrenched disputes can be transformed into opportunities for growth and harmony. It also highlights the power of collaboration in fostering unity, stability and growth even in the most divided communities, rising above divisions to build a future defined by peace and prosperity.

20 INMATES OF AGODI CUSTODIAL CENTRE REGAIN FREEDOM

The Legal Aid Unit of JDPC, Ibadan was able to secure the release of 20 inmates of the Agodi Correctional Centre. These persons had been incarcerated without trial for as long as 5 years awaiting trial in custody.

The Legal Aid Unit has also been responsible for the payment of fines and restitutions following donations by kind hearted persons.

On 13th December, 2024, the fines of ten (10) persons were paid and, in some instances, made restitution to their complainants. This further aided JDPC's efforts towards the decongestion of the Correctional Facilities.

194 MINOR OFFENDERS ARE SPARED FROM IMPRISONMENT IN 2024

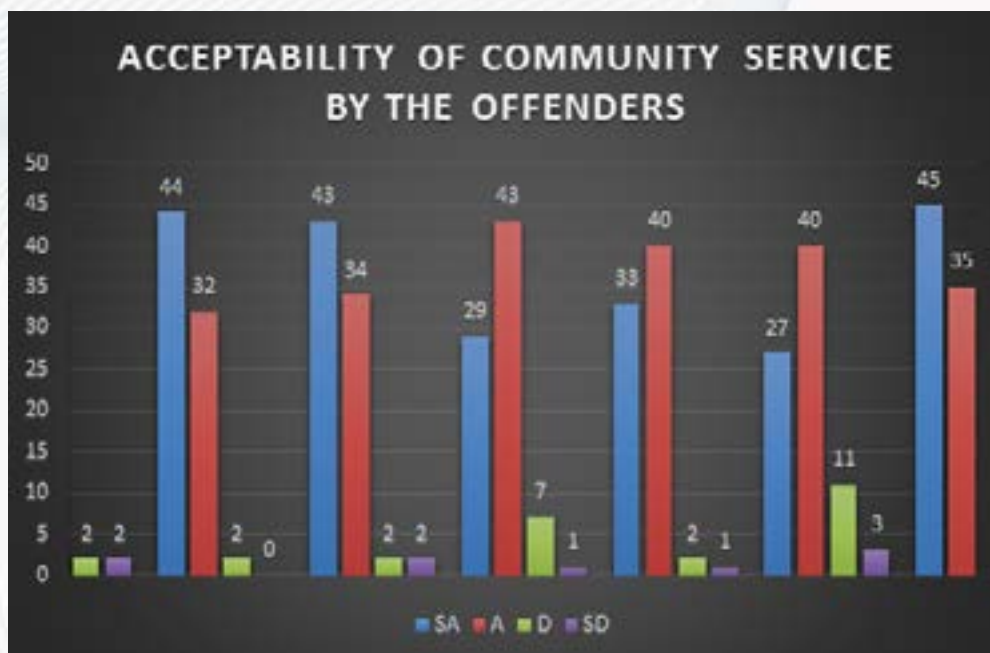

In the year 2024, a total number of One Hundred and Ninety Four (194) persons who committed minor offenses and would have been locked up at the Agodi Custodial center while awaiting trial which could take a period between Six (6) months to Six (6) years have been sentenced to community service across all the magisterial districts in Oyo State. This has considerably stemmed the influx of offenders sentenced to prison custody, thus resulting in a reduction of prison congestion. In other words, the aforementioned 194 offenders would have contributed to the congestion of Agodi and Abolongo Correctional Centres and would have been exposed to communicable diseases, rape, indoctrination into drugs, violence and worse criminal tendencies if there had been no option for community service punishment advocated for and promoted by JDPC, Ibadan. The 194 offenders served their sentences which ranged from cleaning of court premises to clearing of bushes in other public places. After hours of serving their sentence they are introduced to the psycho social support group inaugurated by the community service team of JDPC Ibadan who interact with the offenders in the Community Service Units and offer them counseling. According to the feedbacks from some of the offenders, this counseling helped in their reformation during and after the service of their sentence.

CARE OF INDIGENT PERSONS

J DPC, in 2024, opened the doors to all the people who visited the office and shared the darkest moments/days of their lives just as they asked for support.

Nigeria's harsh economic condition has negatively impacted majority of the people at different levels. Apart from immediately giving food and material relief to the indigents, JDPC investigated their requests and offered appropriate support to them.

These include small scale economic empowerment, financial support of indigent persons to offset some of their bills including hospital bills, and case work intervention for human right abuses, among others.

Two of the human right cases were pathetic: a 14-year girl who was abducted and sexually assaulted became pregnant. She has been rescued and put in a shelter home; she delivered her baby on December 28th, 2024. The other victim is a survivor of domestic violence who is currently in a shelter home with her four kids. Hopefully she will be empowered in the year 2025.

Having the opportunity to gather experience as a Youth Corps member in an organisation like JDPC has been the most inspiring experience I've had. In the past couple of months, I've been able to gain valuable insights into the intersection of social justice and community development.

I was involved in various projects aimed at advocating for citizens voices been heard by the government of the state, and promotion of sustainable development practices. I learned how JDPC works closely with local communities and people with disabilities to address issues such as inequality and human rights violations. This experience has deepened my passion for contributing to positive social change.

Over the past three months, JDPC has provided me with invaluable opportunities for growth, learning, and development, resulting in a profound transformation of my skills, worldview, and personal effectiveness. This experience has significantly enhanced my professional capabilities, fostering lasting memories and a deep appreciation for the organization's mission.

Furthermore, I had the privilege of volunteering with Caritas at the Agodi Correctional Center, participating in a community service initiative that facilitated the release of prisoners with minor offenses. Additionally, I collaborated on the Gender Norms Project (IDPs) and engaged with (D&G) initiative to understand the challenges faced by individuals with disabilities."

I embarked on my IT Program at Justice Development And Peace Commission (Jdpc) on February 19, 2024. In the department Of D&G where warmth and kindness flow, and a strong sense of community that permeates the entire organization of JDPC.

My experience so far in Jdpc has been a transformative milestone, broadening my understanding of various functionalities and privileged To meet a lot of esteemed government officials, including Commissioners, Governors, Honorables, Senators, and Local government representatives and Counselors etc

Through my participation in diverse training programs, such as Capacity Building Workshop On The use of social media for advocacy, Advocating for people driven budget in oyo, Budget Analysis , P2P Conversation With Commissioners police and INCE Commissioners On The issue that arose During Electoral process, participate in a 2 day Capacity Building on Maternal Healthcare Service in Oyo State And Legislation and the participation of youth people in elections: The emerging trends etC.

So far, I have been equipped with numerous knowledge of how Nigerian Government operate and some skill acquire e.g Data Analysis Skill, Data entry skill , and little Knowledge on Budget Analysis etc.

I am deeply indebted to the (JDPC) Ibadan, for the invaluable knowledge and experience I've gained since February. Throughout this period, I've been fortunate to have access to a wealth of information, thanks to the organization's commitment to transparency and knowledge-sharing.

I would like to extend my heartfelt gratitude to my supervisor, Mr. Bamigbose, and Dr Oyedeji the entire staff of JDPC Ibadan, for their unwavering support, guidance, and camaraderie. Your dedication to empowering individuals like myself is truly commendable, and I feel privileged to have been a part of this exceptional team.

I joined JDPC in August 2024 as an intern, a prerequisite to completing my Masters Degree Program in Personnel Psychology in the University of Ibadan.

Volunteering has always been a passion of mine, driven by a desire to contribute to meaningful change in society.

I was drawn to JDPC because of its commitment to promoting social justice, human dignity, and sustainable development. These values resonated deeply with me, and I wanted to be a part of their mission. Additionally, I saw volunteering as an opportunity to grow personally and professionally, while contributing to impactful community service initiatives. My time at the Justice, Development, and Peace Commission (JDPC) under the Caritas Department so far has been a transformative experience that has deepened my understanding of social justice, development work, and the value of empathy in addressing human needs.

Volunteering at JDPC left a profound impact on me. I witnessed firsthand how collaborative efforts can uplift communities and bring hope to the vulnerable. This experience is teaching me critical skills like project management, cultural sensitivity, and effective communication. More importantly, it reinforces the value of compassion, perseverance, and the belief that even small contributions can create lasting change.

My experience at JDPC under the Caritas Department has been more than just an internship opportunity; it's a journey of growth, learning, and self-discovery. It not only allowed me to make a positive difference but also inspired me to continue advocating for social justice and community development in every way possible.

Precious

I am a graduate of Lagos State University (LASU) studied Accounting Education and I have the privilege of working with Justice Development and Peace Commission (JDPC) for the past five months now as a corps member serving in Ibadan.

The organization aims at integral development, Human Right and Democracy, Prison welfare, Peace Building and so on. I have the opportunity to work with the Accounting unit of the organization, learning more about the financial system and working with the great team at the department.

The Organization has invested in my growth through training programs, seminar, and mentorship. I've developed valuable skills in communication and software programs.

My experience with JDPC has been nothing short of exceptional and I am grateful for the opportunities provided and look forward to continuing to make a meaningful impact.

My journey with the Justice Development and Peace Commission (JDPC) over the past two years has been nothing short of transformative. I began as a Corps Member during my NYSC year, and what started as a professional assignment quickly grew into a deeply fulfilling personal commitment.

During my first year, I had the privilege of contributing to impactful projects, one of the most notable being the Human Trafficking Awareness Campaign. This project aimed to educate vulnerable communities about the dangers of human trafficking and provide them with tools to protect themselves. Being part of this initiative not only broadened my perspective on critical social issues but also gave me a sense of purpose, knowing that we were empowering lives and making a difference.

Motivated by the incredible work JDPC does and the supportive environment it provides, I chose to continue my journey as a volunteer. My second year has been even more enriching, as I've had the chance to take on greater responsibilities and contribute to ongoing initiatives. Working alongside a passionate and driven team has been inspiring, and I've learned the true value of collaboration and commitment to a shared mission.

JDPC has been an amazing organization to work with, offering a platform to make meaningful contributions to society while developing myself in the process. The supportive leadership, opportunities for learning, and the chance to witness positive change firsthand have made my time here truly unforgettable.

As I reflect on my journey so far, I am deeply grateful for the experiences, relationships, and lessons I have gained. JDPC has not only shaped my perspective on justice and peace but has also strengthened my resolve to continue making a difference in any way I can.

Stepping into the role of a Media Officer Volunteer at the Justice, Development, and Peace Commission (JDPC) was more than just an opportunity—it was a calling. From the moment I joined, I found myself immersed in a space where media wasn't just about content creation but a powerful tool for advocacy, awareness, and change.

Whether capturing the essence of a community program or shaping narratives that resonated with JDPC's mission, my work became a bridge between the organization and the people it serves. Beyond technical skills in digital communication and graphic design, this experience sharpened my ability to strategically communicate messages that inspire action. More importantly, it taught me the value of storytelling in amplifying voices that often go unheard.

Volunteering at JDPC was more than a role; it was a journey of growth, purpose, and contribution. Working alongside a passionate team dedicated to justice and community development, I didn't just lend my skills; I found a deeper meaning in media's ability to drive change. And for that, I am truly grateful.

I am a graduate of social work from Lead City University, Ibadan. I spent a gap year service at Justice, Development and Peace Commission (JDPC) as a volunteer from July-December, 2024.

Volunteering with the Justice, Development and Peace Commission (JDPC) has been an enriching experience, especially with my background in social work. JDPC is a faith-based non-profit organization dedicated to promoting holistic development through capacity building, community mobilization, peace building, youth and women development, human rights advocacy, and environmental care.

As a social work graduate, I was eager to apply my skills and knowledge to JDPC's diverse programmes. During my service in the Organization, I got to familiarize with the Organization's mission and the various initiatives they engaged in such as humanitarian relief distribution, peace building, inmate's general welfare, case work intervention, human trafficking and network, and conflict transformation.

I participated in several outreach programs, sensitization, advocacy, creation of awareness and attended a workshop on resource mobilization and emotional intelligence. Volunteering with JDPC has been a journey of personal growth. It has enhanced my skills in project management and communication.

My time with JDPC has been immensely rewarding. It has provided me with the opportunity to make a tangible difference in the lives of others while also fostering my personal and professional development. I am grateful for the experience and lessons learned and look forward to continuing my journey in the field of social justice and development in the coming year.

AUDITORS' REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF JUSTICE, DEVELOPMENT AND PEACE CENTRE

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

We have audited the financial statements of Justice, Development and Peace Centre, which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2022, and the statement of Comprehensive Income and profit or loss, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes, comprising significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, as set out on pages 44 and 45

Opinion

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Centre as at 31 December 2022, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) and in the manner required by the Companies and Allied Matters Act, 2020 and the Financial Reporting Council of Nigeria Act, 2011.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Nigeria, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgments, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Responsibilities of the Directors for the Financial Statements

The Directors are responsible for the preparation of financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs and in the manner required by the Companies and Allied Matters Act, 2020 and the Financial Reporting Council of Nigeria Act, 2011 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

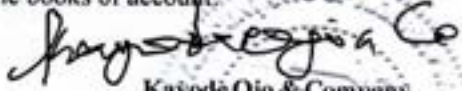

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Centre's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Centre to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure, and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- We communicate with the Trustees regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
- We also provide Trustees with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and also communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.
- From the matters communicated with Trustees, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

In Compliance with the requirements of the Companies and Allied Matters Act, 2020, Laws of the Federation of Nigeria.

In our opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Centre, so far as appears from our examination of those books and the Centre's statement of financial position and statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income are in agreement with the books of account.
