

FSG Invests in OssDsign to Support Next-Generation Orthobiologics

Lund, Sweden – September 20, 2023 – Fåhraeus Startup & Growth Fund II (FSG) today announces its investment in OssDsign, a Swedish medtech company developing next-generation orthobiologics for bone healing. The investment was made through a directed share issue on Nasdaq First North Growth Market, where OssDsign is listed.

OssDsign develops and markets bone replacement products based on cutting-edge material science, supporting the body's own healing across a range of orthopaedic areas with high medical needs. Its portfolio includes patient-specific cranial implants and the off-the-shelf synthetic bone graft Catalyst, which has seen strong growth in the US spine market.

“OssDsign is a well-run company with a product portfolio that is gaining real traction, particularly with Catalyst in the United States. We see significant potential in next-generation orthobiologics and are pleased to back the company in this phase of growth,” said Christer Fåhraeus, General Partner at FSG.

“We welcome FSG as an investor. Their long-term perspective and life-science expertise align well with our ambition to make Catalyst a new standard of care in bone healing,” said Morten Henneveld, CEO of OssDsign.
