

Wiyi Yani U Thangani Institute
FOR FIRST NATIONS GENDER JUSTICE

WOMEN DELIVER 2026 EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST NOW OPEN

Narrm (Melbourne) | 26-30 April 2026 | Applications close 1 February
11:59pm AEDT

For the first time, Women Deliver is coming to Australia — April 27-30, 2026 in Narrm (Melbourne), on the unceded lands of the Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung Peoples. Over 6,500 people from around the world gathering to shape what happens next for gender justice.

This is a pivotal moment for First Nations women, girls, Sistergirls and gender-diverse peoples to share our knowledges, connect with global networks and shape critical conversations on gender justice at an international level.

The Wiyi Yani U Thangani Institute is proudly supporting First Nations women, girls, Sistergirls and gender-diverse peoples (aged 12+) to attend with a limited number of sponsored positions.

ABOUT THE WOMEN DELIVER 2026 CONFERENCE (WD26)

Women Deliver is one of the world's largest conferences on gender equality. Held every three years, it brings together advocates, leaders and changemakers to reimagine power, align strategies, and act for a feminist future.

Women Deliver 2026 (WD2026) will gather more than 6,500 people from across feminist, grassroots, First Nations, youth-led, LGBTQIA+ and women's rights movements, alongside world leaders, creatives, private sector changemakers, academics and media.

For the first time, this global convening is coming to the Oceanic Pacific region, to Narrm (Melbourne). The theme is Change Calls Us Here, a moment to connect, share knowledge and shape what comes next for gender justice.

When: 27–30 April 2026 with pre-conference gatherings on 26 April

Where: Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre, Narrm (Melbourne)

WHO SHOULD APPLY

First Nations women, girls, Sistergirls and gender-diverse peoples aged 12+ who:

- Identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander
- Can commit to attending the full conference including travel days (approximately 25 April–1 May 2026)
- Who reside in Australia at the time of the conference

Important: All attendees under 18 must be accompanied by a registered parent/guardian throughout the conference. See FAQ below for details.

All First Nations women, girls, Sistergirls and gender-diverse peoples (aged 12+) are welcome to apply.

We encourage applications from mob who are often underrepresented at conferences like this:

- Transgender women and Sistergirls
- Gender-diverse mob
- Those living with disability and/or who are neurodivergent
- Mob from remote and regional communities
- Elders and senior knowledge holders
- Young women and girls (aged 12+)
- Mob with caring responsibilities for children, Elders or family members (children under 12 can attend free)

You don't need to be working in the "gender sector" to apply. Whether you're caring for Country; supporting community health; keeping language and culture alive; working in education, arts, business, law, or cultural heritage; finding your way after a tough time; studying or learning from Elders... Your voice and your knowledge matter here.

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR

The selection panel will consider:

- Why First Nations gender justice matters to you
- How attending the conference will support your growth and development
- How you'll share what you learn with your community
- Your connection to or involvement with First Nations women, girls, Sistergirls and gender-diverse peoples
- Geographic diversity (ensuring we support mob from different parts of Australia)
- Diversity of experiences and identities (ensuring we support mob with LGBTQIA+SB identities, disability, age, different lived experiences)

There's no perfect application - we want to hear your voice and your story in your own words.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What does the sponsored position include?

Tell us in your application what support you need and what you can self-support. This helps us redirect funding to enable more women, girls, Sistergirls and gender-diverse people to attend.

When applying, tell us what support you need. This can include:

- Conference registration ($500 USD for First Nations people)
- Return domestic flights to Melbourne
- Accommodation in Melbourne (5–6 nights)
- Meals allowance
- Airport transfers
- For those in Victoria: Train/bus or fuel reimbursement and parking

Included in registration from Women Deliver:

- One parent/guardian registration for those accompanying 12–17 year olds
- Free attendance for children under 12 (for parents/guardians attending with a child)
- One disability support companion registration (if required)

Can I get additional support for my family/carers?

We have limited additional funding and will work with selected applicants to explore support for:

- Companions, carers, or children required to travel with you
- Guardian/parent flights and accommodation (for those aged 12–17)
- Disability support person flights and accommodation
- Children's travel and accommodation costs (for those aged 0-11)
- Specific accessibility needs

Please share your support needs in the application so we can discuss options together. Don't let uncertainty about additional support stop you from applying.

Other ways to attend if I can't access a sponsored position

Professional development budget: Many workplaces have PD budgets that can cover conference attendance. Registration for First Nations people is $500 USD. Talk to your manager or HR team. The Institute can provide letters of support - contact wyut@anu.edu.au

We encourage everyone to let us know in their application what supports they need and what they might be able to access through other means (like workplace PD budgets). This helps us support as many people as possible.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What does "full conference including travel days" mean?

You must be available for the entire period.

Typical Schedule:

What if I need to withdraw my application?

If you're selected but circumstances change and you can no longer attend, please let us know as soon as possible by contacting wyut@anu.edu.au.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS- FOR PARENTS/GUARDIANS (YOUNG PEOPLE AGED 12-17)

What are my responsibilities as a parent/guardian?

Women Deliver 2026 requires all under-18s to be accompanied by a registered parent/guardian. If your young person is selected, you must:

- Be willing and able to attend the full conference with them
- Be available for the full period (approximately 25 April–1 May 2026)
- Provide consent for your young person to apply and attend
- Supervise and hold responsibility for your young person throughout the conference

What support will I receive?

Women Deliver provide complimentary conference registration for one guardian accompanying 12–17 year olds.

If you require financial support to attend with your young person (such as flights, accommodation, meals, or airport transfers), please indicate which supports you require in the application so we can discuss options. We have limited additional funding and will do our best to support as many young people as possible.

FOR THOSE TRAVELLING WITH CHILDREN UNDER 12

Can I bring my children under 12?

Yes, Women Deliver 2026 allows children under 12 to attend free if accompanying a registered parent/guardian.

If you require financial support for your children to attend with you (such as flights, accommodation, meals, or airport transfers), please indicate which supports you require in the application so we can discuss options.

What about childcare in Melbourne?

For local childcare options in Melbourne during conference sessions, contact Women Deliver at wd2026@womendeliver.org
