TIP OF THE DAY

Bones are a vital organ of the body. Did you know your skeleton is made up of 206 bones?! These bones are responsible for the protection of internal organs, provide shape and support to the body, enable movement of the body, support blood production, and assist with many other bodily functions! An important part of our health and wellness involves keeping our bones strong. We can support them through healthy diet and regular exercise! Weight-bearing exercise (like those in your MaraFun program) are especially good for bone health!
