Price Increase Effective August 1, 2026

This message serves as an advance notice of a forthcoming price increase effective August 1, 2026.

Despite ongoing upstream cost pressures and fuel price escalations, we have made every effort to manage costs and help you remain competitive in the marketplace. However, with sustained increases in input costs, we need to adjust pricing across our product portfolio. Effective August 1, 2026, the updated Spartan price list will reflect a 5% increase. Pricing for dispensers, equipment, and select promotional items will also be adjusted as needed on an item-by-item basis.

This update will apply to all Spartan products, except for the Simplifill® product line. In order to keep the momentum going with Simplifill®, we are holding the Simplifill® pricing firm at this time. Thank you for your enthusiastic adoption of this exciting new dispensing technology.

As in the past, we will provide a follow-up communication once the updated price list is available for download on the Spartan Chemical website, no later than May 29, 2026. This timeline is intended to give you ample opportunity to update your pricing systems and plan accordingly for bids and contracts.

Please watch for an upcoming Sparta-gram with additional details.

Thank you for your continued support, and I assure you that everyone at Spartan Chemical looks forward to each and every opportunity to be of service.
