To Our Valued Customers:

SC Johnson Professional has long been committed to providing high-quality, innovative products and reliability at a great value for our Distributors and End Users throughout North America. Our priority is to continue this support despite the external factors shaping the environment in which we operate together.

As part of this, we continue to navigate a highly volatile trade environment, which is impacting our manufacturing and other costs. Through significant effort and assertive actions, we have been able to mitigate some, but not all of these challenges across our portfolio.

Consequently, a price increase will be implemented on SC Johnson Professional® commercial items effective October 3, 2026. New pricing is based on the order date and applies to all orders placed on or after October 3, 2026.

An updated price list with detailed item information will be made available. Your SC Johnson Professional sales representative can support you in planning future orders.

On behalf of the entire SC Johnson Professional team, thank you for your business and partnership.

Sincerely,
