MARKET PRICING UPDATE

Subject: Corrugated Market Increase

Date: April 25, 2026

Dear Valued Customer,

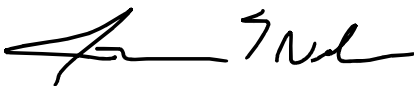

This announcement is to make you aware that the major integrated corrugated producers, International Paper and Packaging Corporation of America have announced a $70 per ton price increase for March 1.

As a result, Pulp and Paper Week has recognized $50/ton of the announced increase in their March and April publications.

Based on the announced market increase, as well as cost pressures on diesel pricing, and overhead costs, SupplyOne will increase pricing of corrugated items by 8-10% effective with orders placed by July 20 for deliveries on or after Friday, May 1. As always, SupplyOne is negotiating with our suppliers to minimize the impact of this price volatility on our customer pricing.

All customers with specific contractual arrangements relative to minimum notification periods will be honored. Your salesperson and/or your customer service representative will be in contact with your organization regarding specific pricing, as it relates to your account.

Sincerely,

Jamey Nolan
President
