

Moto Moto – A DJ & Producer couple from Leipzig

Born and rooted in the hypnotic nature of the Allgäu. Surrounded by cowbells and flowering meadows, growing through a variety of scents and sounds, two individuals have found each other.

Moritz's passion for music began at the early age of 14, when he discovered how to mix reggae beats. From this point he was hooked on the dynamics of creating new sounds. Over the following years he embarked on a journey through genres collecting knowledge along the way to constantly develop himself. Minimal and Techno quickly secured their places in his heart and, since 2016, he became the anchor for techno parties surrounding his home enabling him to discover his passion for creating spaces where people can express themselves through music.

In 2018 Eva and Moritz's paths collided sending shockwaves into the music scene, and remain partners in crime until today.

Eva grew up in a rural setting with the cattle roaming, the pastures and agricultural machines passing the house. Her tenacious passion and dedication to electronic music was born through her encounter with Moritz who ensured that she received old folders bursting with hand selected sounds, and with her first Traktor S4, she began her own deep dive into the depths of rhythmic sounds. Over the years she developed her own understanding of techno music and decided to burst into the male dominated scene as an unstoppable female DJ.

The first b2b followed in 2019 and since then Eva and Moritz continued to discover and implement their visions together. Relentlessly working on their dreams of spreading music and a producer/DJ duo. First big step together - their move to Leipzig in 2020. Faffing around in the underground scene led them to meet some crazy characters and lovely bonkers, which became a source of inspiration. This ultimately led to the creation of their fresh musical project Moto Moto, which they launched in November 2024 after months of preparation, marking the beginning with their debut release on the Leipzig-based label KOSMOS.

The culmination of sounds from Eva and Moritz evokes an exciting nippy experience resulting in beautiful smiles on every face on the dancefloor. The significant elements of their tracks and sets have been described as groovy and driving basslines, creaky synths, juicy midtones and clear wide kicks. The catchy vocals and melodic breaks have become signature moves and encapsulate the sound concept of Moto Moto.
