Christina Osornio, 35 year old mother and lawful permanent Benton County resident living in the U.S. since she was 3 months old, is stopped while running an errand for her job and ends up spending several days in a detention center before being released. Benton County is considered a 'model' of local law enforcement's voluntary cooperation with federal ICE deployments to harass, intimidate, and terrorize immigrant communities. More than 70% of ICE detainees have no criminal convictions.
