Psychic Source offers personalized content and improves its website through cookies, as stated in their Privacy Policy. To find a match, use their fun interactive tool, which has fully screened advisors for authenticity and quality. New customers can benefit from a free minutes offer, but terms apply. New to Psychic Source? Enjoy connections via phone, chat, email, or video call with Keen, a premier destination for 25 years, offering trusted advisors and 24/7 support. Keen rewards loyalty points and guarantees satisfaction. We take your privacy seriously, ensuring that we don't share your phone number with anyone, even your advisor. If your preferred psychic advisor is unavailable, you can schedule an appointment for their next availability by using the "arrange a call" or "arrange a chat" buttons on their profile. You can also send direct messages to your psychic through Ping, allowing you to follow up on previous readings and coordinate schedules. There's no cost limit for sending three messages in a row before receiving a response from an advisor. For those who prefer email communication, you can click the mail icon on your advisor's listing to send a message without charge. This is also suitable for sharing thank-you notes or coordinating future readings. Some advisors offer paid email services, which include a psychic reading in an email format.
