Once you have everything needed, place the items into your Brewing Stand correctly - three Cobblestones on the bottom row, a Blaze Rod on the middle slot, and Nether Wart in the top middle slot. Add fuel to the stand and fill the bottom three slots with Bottles of Water. To activate brewing, add Blaze Powder to the left top slot and Ghast Tear to the right top slot.To create a Regeneration Potion, first locate a brewing stand and place it on the ground. Next, add nether wart to the top of the stand; this will produce an awkward potion. Then, put ghast tear into the ingredient slot and you'll get a 45-second Regeneration potion. You can now add either glowstone dust or redstone dust for different effects: redstone extends the effect to two minutes while glowstone makes it stronger but shorter in duration. However, adding fermented spider eye transforms the potion into a Weakness Potion lasting one minute and thirty seconds. When you're low on health, drinking this potion allows you to regenerate your health over time, even if your hunger bar is not full.To start crafting the Regeneration Potion, you'll need several ingredients: bottle of water, nether wart, ghast tear, and blaze powder. To obtain these materials, follow these steps:* Craft a glass block by smelting sand in a furnace and use three blocks to create a bottle.* Fill up the empty bottles by interacting with a water source.* Locate a Nether Fortress, which only spawns in the Nether, and harvest nether wart from Soulsand. You can bring both to the overworld for safety.* Obtain ghast tear by killing Ghasts in the Nether using a bow.* Get blaze powder by breaking down a Blaze Rod at a crafting table.Now that you have all the necessary ingredients, follow these steps to craft the Regeneration Potion:1. Craft a brewing stand and place it on a surface.2. Add blaze powder to the top-left box of the brewing stand as fuel.3. Put the Water Bottle in one of the three potion slots below.4. Add nether wart to the upper section and wait for an awkward potion to be produced.5. Add ghast tear to the upper section, which will give you a 45-second Regeneration Potion.You can further customize your Regeneration Potion by adding either glowstone dust or redstone dust: glowstone makes the effect stronger but shorter in duration while redstone extends it to two minutes. Alternatively, adding fermented spider eye transforms the potion into a Weakness Potion lasting one minute and thirty seconds.When you're low on health, drinking this potion allows you to regenerate your health over time, even if your hunger bar is not full.To create the Potion of Regeneration in Minecraft, combine an Awkward Potion with a Ghast Tear in a Brewing Stand.
