

September is Childhood Cancer Awareness Month! Go Gold with SJF!

Angelo is a handsome 8 year old boy who was diagnosed with high risk Neuroblastoma on July 28, 2023. According to his social worker, Sheila Dobbs at the Children's Hospital of Wisconsin, Angelo will undergo extensive treatment over the next 18-months that will include chemotherapy, surgery, radiation, bone marrow transplant, and antibody therapy. As Angelo is 1 of 8 children, his parents are undergoing a very stressful period for their entire family. Laura, Angelo's mother, said that he is anxious about starting chemotherapy, but understands the treatments "will help make the cancer go away."

Jameson was diagnosed with high risk Neuroblastoma in early-February 2023 at the age of 3 years-old.

Jameson is currently undergoing chemotherapy treatment at the Children's Hospital in Milwaukee. His mother and father have had to quit their jobs to accommodate the extensive treatment plan. Jameson's mother has said that he has a dream to become Spider-Man once his chemotherapy (AKA superpowers) have gone through his central line. Jameson loves to ride dirt bikes and spend time on his grandpa's boat.
