

Summit Value for Allies: Step Into Your Power

Students, Advocates, Allies, and Beyond

Event Overview:

The 2025 Latine Education Summit is a multi-day experience rooted in culture, community, and collective action. You'll be surrounded by students, educators, families, and leaders all working toward a future where every learner feels seen, supported, and celebrated. You'll leave equipped with the tools, connections, and courage to support North Carolina's evolving student populations.

Why Attend:

- Connect with a statewide community grounded in care, connection, and shared commitment to education.
- Learn actionable strategies to create welcoming, student-centered spaces.
- Discover how to show up as an ally and make meaningful impact in and out of the classroom.

Whether you're just starting your journey in education or stepping into your voice as a student or community advocate, the Latine Education Summit is where you belong. Through dynamic workshops, panels, and keynotes led by frontline leaders, you'll gain actionable strategies to support multicultural learners and transform learning environments. More than just a conference, the Summit is a space to build lasting connections and join a statewide community where good intentions turn into meaningful action.
