It's worth noting that the School of Engineering follows a slightly adjusted calendar but still adheres to the University Academic Calendar for other terms. For instance, if you're referring to subsequent semesters, be sure to check the University Academic Calendar for term start and end dates, registration periods, and deadlines. Additionally, there are several key dates worth mentioning, including President's Day No Classes and Legislative Monday Classes meet according to a Monday schedule. The class withdrawal deadline falls on these same days as well. Moving forward, the final exam schedule is scheduled to take place from May 8-14, 2025, with specific details available on the NYU Registrar's website for Tandon Undergraduate Final Exam Schedule. Furthermore, Spring Welcome is an upcoming event that welcomes admitted students starting their NYU experience during the spring semester. If you're selected for spring admission, it indicates that we believe in your ability to handle an accelerated first-year experience. You'll have a gap semester to pursue internships or meaningful projects and will then begin classes with new experiences and skills. Throughout the academic year, there are numerous opportunities to explore various topics such as health care, memory, fish migration, and more through NYU's course offerings. At NYU, we're committed to preparing students who become outspoken advocates for health equity through education, research, policy work, and outreach. The Spring 2025 Class Schedule will be published on October 21, 2024, with registration starting on November 18, 2024. Key dates like Martin Luther King, Jr. Birthday and NYU classes beginning on January 21, 2025, are also worth noting.
