

The first five years of a child's life lays the groundwork for their lifelong learning, behavior, and overall health and well-being. Despite this, disparities persist across California with many children facing significant gaps in income, access, and opportunity. There is an urgent and persistent need for investment in young children and their families, and for more equitable systems that help children thrive.

For more than 40 years, California has built a robust child care infrastructure. Connecting California Families was formed in 2019 to unite over 65 child care agencies statewide. The mission of Connecting California Families is to deliver coordinated, comprehensive services to children, families, and providers because when parents have access to quality child care, early childhood education, and other essential resources, children and entire communities prosper. The data presented here, reflecting the Fiscal Year 2023-2024, comes from one of the 11 lead regional agencies for Connecting California Families.
