Wine List

House Pour

De Bortoli, DB Family Selection, Chardonnay 180

Riverina, Australia (2024) (White)

Dry, medium-bodied, elegant and balanced. Pale straw color with green tinges; fresh pear, stone fruit (peach, melon), and subtle cashew-like oak notes. The palate features weight from fermentation on lees and light French oak influence—creamy mid-palate balanced by bright acidity and a crisp, mineral-tinged finish with soft, round tannins.

Les Legendes R, Bordeaux 180

Domaines Barons de Rothschild - Lafite, France (2020) (Red)

Dry, medium to medium-full bodied; vibrant red and dark fruit (blackberry, blackcurrant, Morello cherry) with subtle oak influence (light mocha, toast, tobacco), followed by a fresh aromatic finish featuring liquorice and candied liquorice. Silky, rounded tannins with a harmonious, balanced palate.

Dea Del Mare, Vino Spumante Extra Dry Prosecco DOC 180

Veneto, Italy (NV) (Sparkling White)

Extra dry, light- to medium-bodied with lively acidity and soft, creamy mousse. Fresh aromas of citrus, green apple, pear, and white flowers lead into a crisp, fruity palate with hints of peach and melon. Finishes clean and refreshing with delicate bubbles.

Pa Road, Pinot Noir 190

Marlborough, New Zealand (2022) (Red)

Dry, light to medium-bodied, silky and vibrant. Bright ruby red in color with aromas of red cherry, raspberry, plum, and subtle earthy spice. The palate is fruit-forward and smooth, with fine tannins, refreshing acidity, and hints of oak aging adding structure and depth. Finishes with elegant length and a touch of savoury complexity.

Te Pa, Sauvignon Blanc 190

Marlborough, New Zealand (2022) (White)

Dry, medium-bodied; vibrant acidity, crisp and mouthwatering with chalky dryness, juicy tropical (passionfruit, mango, white peach), citrus (lime, grapefruit) and herb notes (sage, basil), finished with refreshing saline minerality and clean finish.

Robert Parker 90/100

France

Guigal 1220

Cotes du Rhone, France (2020) (Red)

Dry, medium-bodied to full-bodied, vigorous and expressive. Rich dark and red fruit black cherry, blackberry, plum—layered with spice, black olive, cedar, espresso, and incense. Balanced acidity supports the fruit, while tannins are bold yet sandy and refined. Long, cigar-box—tinged finish with savory-earthly/mineral complexity.

Robert Parker 91/100

Henri Bourgeois, Terrasse des Grands Hommes 1220

Quincy, France (2023) (White)

Dry and medium-bodied, with elegant aromatics of white flowers and citrus fruits such as grapefruit and lemon. On the palate, it is fresh, crisp, and round. well-balanced with lively minerality, fine acidity, and subtle structure. The finish is clean and aromatic, reflecting Quincy's characteristic finesse.

Les Hauts de La Gaffeliere, Saint Emilion 1er Grand Cru Classe 1220

Chateau la Gaffeliere, France (2021) (Red)

Dry, medium- to full-bodied; perfumed and refined, with aromas of cherries, raspberries, crushed stone, light cream, hibiscus and subtle dark fruit. The palate delivers fine-grained tannins, vertical structure, and fresh acidity—youthful but polished and well textured, with a lingering finish.

Robert Parker 93/100

Louis Jadot, Bourgogne Pinot Noir 1380

Couvent des Jacobins, France (2022) (Red)

Dry, medium-bodied, with a silky, refined texture. Aromatics feature ripe red berries—cherry, raspberry, cranberry—plus herb and spice hints. The palate is clean and supple, supported by balanced acidity, gentle tannins, and a subtle earthy/mineral undertone. Elegant with lingering finish

Trimbach, Gewurztraminer 1580

Alsace, France (2020) (White)

Dry, medium-bodied with pronounced aromatics typical of the variety: rose petals, lychee, candied citrus, peach, and spice notes such as ginger and clove. The palate delivers lush richness balanced by brisk acidity and saline minerality, finishing long, structured, and clean. Soft texture, no perceptible tannin presence.

Robert Parker 91/100

Trimbach, Riesling "Reserve" 1580

Alsace, France (2022) (White)

Dry, full-bodied for Riesling; intense yet elegant with aromas of citrus (lemon, grapefruit), stone fruit (peach/Mirabelle), herbs, spice and white flowers. Mineral character is pronounced—chalky, saline, with serious structure. Palate is taut, juicy and refined, showing great power balanced by vibrancy. No perceptible tannins.

Robert Parker 93/100

Domaine de L'Ile, Porquerolles Rose 1580

Cotes de Provence, France (2023) (Rose)

Dry, medium-bodied with maritime elegance; coral-amber hue. On the nose: tea leaf, eucalyptus, aromatic spice and licorice, with hints of rose petal and crushed stone. The palate opens with a soft yet vivid attack of pomelo, almond and grapefruit, supported by lively, saline acidity and a caressing, mineral-driven finish accented by faint pepper and iodine. Texturally impeccable and refreshingly gastronomic.

Dry, medium- to full-bodied; nose of baked raspberries, cherries, blueberries, forest floor, truffle and hints of spice, sage, violet and mocha. On the palate it's layered and creamy yet fresh, with plush, rounded tannins, juicy acidity, black/red fruit preserves and a long mineral-tinged finish.

Robert Parker 92/100*Leflaive (Olivier), Bourgogne, Cuvee Margot*1980*France (2020) (Red)

Dry, medium-bodied, with an aromatic and refined nose of red berries—strawberry, raspberry—and hints of violet and subtle forest floor. The palate is fresh and elegant with crunchy red fruit, crisp acidity, fine silky tannins, and a clean, graceful finish delicate earthiness and spice underpin the profile.

Chateau Lilian Ladouys*2180*Saint Estephe, France (2017) (Red)

Dry, medium- to full-bodied; perfumed on the nose with plum, blueberry, red berries, faint tobacco and mineral notes. Fruit-driven and juicy, with raspberry, blackcurrant, mild pepper spice and a touch of cedar. The palate is refined but firm, with grainy tannins, freshness, and a subtly tight finish—balanced structure with modest austerity.

Robert Parker 90/100*Le Domaine d'Henri, Chablis 1er Cru, Fourchaume*2200*France (2022) (White)

Dry, medium-bodied with intense minerality and salinity typical of Fourchaume. Aromas of lemon peel, green apple, white flowers and chalky wet stone. The palate is crisp, structured and mineral-driven, with precise acidity and a long clean finish. Roughly 50% aged in old oak or amphora, the rest in stainless steel on fine lees to retain freshness and texture.

No perceptible tannins.

Domaine de Larrivet Haut Brion, Pessac Leognan (Exclusive)*2220*France (2019) (White)

Dry yet elegantly expressive, this white Bordeaux opens with a vivid, pale gold hue and delicate aromas of white flowers intertwining with white peach, almond, and toasted pastry nuances. On the palate, it is fresh and supple, offering vibrant citrus and stone fruit lifted by a whisper of salinity and gentle oak presence. Seamless and balanced, it displays generous texture yet retains a lively, poised structure. The finish is long, leaving a lingering impression of freshness and subtle savory depth.

Domaine Henri Bourgeois, JS-150, Pouilly Fume*2280*France (2022) (White)

Dry, medium-bodied with finesse and clarity. Aromas of citrus rind (grapefruit, lime), exotic white fruit, white flowers, crushed stone/minerality, with subtle oak spice. On the palate—taut, mineral-driven, concentrated and balanced with lively acidity and a lingering saline finish. No perceptible tannins. Fermented 85% in stainless steel, 15% in Tronçais oak, aged on fine lees for 7–8 months.

James Suckling 93/100

Leflaive (Olivier), Bourgogne, Les Setilles
France (2022) (White)

2520

Dry, medium-full bodied white Burgundy. Aromas of white flowers, peach, grilled almond and lemon peel on a mineral-tinged backdrop. On the palate it's fleshy and textured, with salted caramel, apricot, pear, and grilled nuts. Aged ~14 months in oak (approximately 10% new) balanced with stainless steel, giving bright acidity a lively, clean finish. Tannins are negligible.
James Suckling 91/100

La Dame de Montrose (by Chateau Montrose)
Saint Estephe 2eme Grand Cru Classe, France (2019) (Red)

3380

Dry, medium to full-bodied, richly textured. Aromas of black cherry, blackberry, currants, violet, olive leaf, tobacco and graphite. The palate is elegant and harmonious, with fine-grained, integrated tannins, balanced acidity and a lengthy finish showing licorice and savory minerality.
James Suckling 93/100

Domaine Jacques Prieur, Chardonnay
Bourgogne, France (2022) (White)

3480

Dry, medium- to full-bodied; bright citrus zest, yellow-pulp fruit (apple, pear), floral notes of jasmine and acacia. Oak aging (~15 months) gives gentle woody spice and richness. The palate is round but lifted by linear acidity with a zesty clean finish; aromas include chalky/mineral spices and subtle earthy wood.

Chateau Malescot St Exupery, Margaux 3eme Grand Cru Classe
France (2013) (Red)

3880

Dry, medium- to full-bodied with perfumed, floral Margaux character. Aromas of graphite, black currant liqueur, incense, camphor and dark berries lead into a palate of concentrated black fruit—blackberry, plum—with tobacco, licorice and earthy nuances. Tannins are moderate and silky, acidity balanced and the finish elegant and mineral-accented.

Le griffons de pichon baron 2020
France (2020) (Red)

3880

Dry, medium- to full-bodied, and impeccably structured, this wine offers a deep purple hue and an expressive bouquet of ripe blackcurrant, dark cherry, and plum, interwoven with subtle notes of tobacco, cedar, and a hint of mocha. The palate is rich and concentrated, showcasing velvety tannins and a harmonious balance between fruit intensity and freshness. Flavors of blackberry, dark chocolate, and a touch of spice lead to a long, persistent finish with a refined, mineral edge. A classic expression of Pauillac, demonstrating the elegance and depth characteristic of Château Pichon Baron.

Chateau Langoa Barton, Saint Julien 3eme Grand Cru Classe 4380
France (2013) (Red)

Dry, medium-bodied and elegantly restrained for a 3rd Growth. Aromas of cedar, spice and red berries transition into a palate featuring crisp red currant and plum fruit. Fine mineral-driven acidity and gently firm tannins provide structure and freshness, and the finish is balanced and subtle rather than opulent—a reliably classic, refined Saint-Julien.

Domaine Laroche, Chablis Grand Cru 4820
Les Clos, France (2022) (White)

Dry, full-bodied and concentrated; crystalline purity lifted by bright citrus (lime, lemon), white peach and floral (white blossom) aromas, underpinned by intense flinty minerality and saline oyster-shell notes. The palate is powerful yet refined, with taut, energetic acidity, layered fruit and a long, textured finish with subtle spice from oak aging.

Chateau Leoville Poyferre, Saint Julien 2eme Grand Cru Classe 4880
France (2017) (Red)

Dry, medium- to full-bodied and very Saint-Julien in style—elegantly structured with classic refinement. Aromas lean toward cassis, blackberry, tobacco leaf, espresso and cedar, with floral violet undertones. The palate is precise and layered, marked by fine-grained, muscular tannins and crisp acidity. It finishes long with mineral and spice notes, showing buoyant freshness despite its density.

Chateau Pape Clement, Grand Cru Classe de Graves 4880
Pessac Leognan, France (2013) (Red)

Dry, medium-bodied, balanced and refined—ripe plum, stone fruit and cherry interwoven with subtle cedar, tobacco, graphite and gentle spice. Tannins are firm yet polished, acidity well-calibrated, leading to a clean, lingering finish with understated complexity. Elegant, precise, with a fresh and refined fruit-driven character.

Robert Parker 91/100

Chateau Pavie Macquin, Saint Emilion 1er Grand Cru Clas 5080
France (2017-2019) (Red)

Dry, medium- to full-bodied and expressive; deep dark-red/black fruits like cassis, blackberry and plum mingle with floral violets, licorice and subtle spice notes of menthol and forest floor. Oak aging (~16 months in ~70% new French oak) contributes integrated toast and polish. The palate is dense and layered, with fine-grained, silky tannins and energetic acidity—delivering precision, depth and a long, multifaceted, mineral-tinged finish.

Robert Parker 97/100

Chateau Canon La Gaffeliere, 1er Saint Emilion Grand Cru Classe B 5220
France (2011) (Red)

Dry, medium- to full-bodied; dense, concentrated and fresh thanks to that vintage's heritage frost-impacted yields. Aromas of baked blackberries, blueberry compote, crème de cassis, forest floor, dried roses and cedar. The palate shows firm, fine-grained tannins, brilliant freshness and mid-palate density that finish bright and energizing with a mineral lift.

Chateau La Gaffeliere, Saint Emilion 1er Grand Cru Classe B 5480
France (2016) (Red)

Dry, full-bodied and powerful yet refined. Aromas of black plum, dark berries, sous-bois, spice, fresh mushrooms and pencil lead; generous and luscious on entry, with firm, chewy tannins and vibrant acidity. The palate offers a seamless texture, floral perfume from the Cabernet Franc, mid-palate density, and a polished, lengthened finish. Elegant yet structured, showing both power and finesse.
floral-mineral finish.

Robert Parker 97/100

Chateau Smith Haut Lafitte, Grand Cru Classe de Graves*8420*Pessac Leognan, France (2015) (Red)

Dry, full-bodied and powerful, with a very dark ruby-purple hue. Aromatics include exotic spices (star anise, Sichuan pepper), black and blue fruits (cassis, blueberries, plum preserves), violets, cedar, licorice, truffle and forest-floor mineral notes. On the palate it's dense but balanced, featuring ripe, fine-grained tannins, vivid acidity, elegant structure, and a long spicy,

Chateau Beychevelle, Saint Julien 4eme Grand Cru Classe*8920*France (2016) (Red)

Dry, medium- to full-bodied with an elegant, seamless texture. Aromas and flavors of violet, saddle leather, blackberry and cassis, layered with savory notes of dried herbs, charcuterie and black olives. The palate is reserved yet refined, with tight, grainy tannins and bright freshness; the finish is long with a lingering savory lift.

Robert Parker 95/100*Jadot (Domaine des Heritiers)*10220*Corton Charlemagne, France (2020) (White)

Dry, full-bodied and richly textured; powerful with intense stone-fruit (apricot, peach) and apple flavors, complemented by floral and spice notes (pepper, cinnamon) plus smoky oak. Lovely minerality and mouthwatering freshness lend precision and lift. A wine that balances weight and acidity gracefully.

Pichon Longueville Baron, Pauillac 2eme Grand*10820*France (2015) (Red)

Dry, medium- to full-bodied and well-structured; bold black- and blue-fruits like cassis, blackberry, and plum layered with notes of graphite, lead-pencil shavings, bay leaf, and baking spices. The oak aging (≈18 months in ~80% new French oak) lends polish. Tannins are very fine-grained yet firm, giving freshness, tension and a persistent, perfumed finish with mineral lift.

Robert Parker 97/100

Italy

Pio Cesare, Piodilei, Chardonnay, Langhe DOC (Single Vineyard) 2480 Italy (2020) (White)

Dry, full-bodied and richly textured with a Burgundian profile. The nose is fragrant with pineapple, brioche, toasted almond, pear and vanilla, alongside flinty minerality. On the palate: creamy yet lively, with tropical fruit, stone fruit, caramel, hazelnut, fresh lemon zest, firm phenolic structure and chalky acidity, backed by subtle oak spice and a long finish.

Tenuta San Guido, Guidalberto by Sassicaia 2980 Tuscany IGT, Italy (2021) (Red)

Full-bodied, energetic and elegantly structured. Aromas of mint, blackberry, mulberry and spicy cedar lead into refined, polished palate textures. On tasting, vivid fruit (dark cherry, cassis), flinty minerality, savory notes and fine-grained, velvety tannins define a wine of great harmony and focus. Acidity is bright, supporting mid-palate concentration and a long, fresh finish.

Masi, Costasera, Amarone della Valpolicella Classico DOCG 3620 Italy (2017 & 2019) (Red)

Dry and full-bodied, dense yet balanced—this wine is a benchmark for Amarone. Aromas of cooked cherry, plum jam, dark chocolate, roasted coffee and cloves lead into a palate with velvety tannins and firm structure. Despite ~15.5% alcohol, vibrant acidity keeps it fresh, with a long savory finish marked by cocoa, balsamic pine and earthy acidity.

Spain

Alvaro Palacios, La Montesa, Rioja DOCa 1380 Spain (2021) (Red)

Dry, medium-bodied yet concentrated; marked by lifted aromas of sour cherry, candied orange peel, mulberry, violet, and herbal spice, with hints of cedar and potpourri. The palate is vibrant and focused, featuring fine-grained tannins, saline minerality and expressive fruit—elegant and harmonious rather than overtly powerful.

Torres, Salmos, Priorat DOCa 1680 Spain (2020) (Red)

Dry, medium- to full-bodied with a savory-mineral edge. Aromas of dark cherry preserves, figs, dried plums, coconut, marzipan, toasted oak and cedar—rich yet nuanced. The palate delivers elegant yet firm tannins, juicy acidity, and a long finish with spice and graphite accents, reflecting Porrera's chalk-driven terroir.

Alvaro Palacios, Placet de Valtomelloso, Rioja DOCa 1820 Spain (2023) (White)

Dry and medium-bodied with a graceful, almost Burgundy-like texture. Aromatics express white flower blossoms, ripe pear, apple, fennel and chamomile intertwined with honeyed spice and oyster-shell minerality. On the palate, it is creamy yet vibrant, supported by fine acidity, chalky grip and a long, balanced finish. Ideal gastronomic finesse rather than fruit bomb richness.

Robert Parker 94/100

Alvaro Palacios, Propiedad, DOCa Rioja 2320 Spain (2021) (Red)

Grape Variety: ~90 % old-vine Garnacha Tinta (30–90 years old) organically grown in vineyards like Valtomelloso, Valmira, Las Murgas, Valviejo and Corral de Serrano at 400–640 m elevation, fermented in traditional tinajas, bocoyes and fudres (~10 months aging).

Argentina

Susana Balbo crios

888

Argentina (2023) (White)

Bright and vibrant, with a seamless balance of freshness and structure. It greets the nose with enticing aromas of violets, cherries, and spice, subtly enhanced by a whisper of oak. On the palate, layers of ripe red fruits—think black cherries and currants—are animated by a fine-grained tannic framework and lifted by brisk acidity. Medium- to full-bodied in feel, yet approachable in manner, the finish is elegantly persistent, marked by fresh energy and a savory depth that invites another sip

Balbo Signature, Barrel Fermented Torrontes

Uco, Argentina (2022) (White)

Dry and medium-bodied with a floral-meets-structured personality. Aromas offer delicate white florals and exotic notes of lime, wild honey, vanilla and grapefruit. On the palate, it's texturally rich and creamy thanks to oak aging, yet balanced by vibrant acidity and saline minerality, finishing with elegance and a subtle burnished complexity.

Susana Balbo Signature, Cabernet Sauvignon

Tupungato, Uco Valley, Argentina (2022) (Red)

Dry, full-bodied and expressive, with deep dark fruit aromas such as blackberry, tobacco, mint, cedar and crushed stone. On the palate: medium richness and vigorous acidity, rounded, fine-grained tannins and refreshing minerality. The oak is polished and supporting rather than dominant. Long, juicy finish with vibrant energy.

Robert Parkere 91/100

Bodega Argento, Single Block 1, Malbec

1580

Mendoza, Argentina (2021) (Red)

Dry, medium- to full-bodied with sleek structure and saline freshness. Aromas of sour cherry, raspberry, violet florals and wet stone lead into a juicy, mineral palate. Fine silty tannins frame dark berries, herbs, and spice. The finish is long, focused and elegant rather than heavy.

James Suckling 95/100

Susana balbo brioso

2888

Argentina (2020) (Red)

Dry, full-bodied and finely structured, with aromas of ripe blackcurrant, plum and blueberry interwoven with violet, graphite and subtle cedar spice.
