

ONE STONE

PROMOTIONAL ITEMS + APPAREL

Two Birds, One Stone

We work with large partners to turn apparel into impact.

Deloitte.

At One Stone, we believe branded merchandise should do more than put a logo on a product it should create connection, leave an impression, and elevate your brand experience.

For over 20 years, we've partnered with leading companies and growing brands to deliver premium apparel, promotional products, and creative marketing solutions that feel current, intentional, and memorable.

Based in Los Angeles, our team combines trend awareness, white-glove service, and hands-on creativity to make the process seamless while helping our clients maximize impact and ROI.

In addition, we strongly believe in leaving an impact and we partner with the largest school districts in America to implement programs that help students, staff, and parents have a more meaningful educational experience.

What does One Stone do?

Sourcing, Cut & Sew, Branding, Fulfillment, and SO MUCH MORE

We do custom apparel, promotional items, and look for ways to impact the future by supporting and giving back to schools.

Our design team can support your business by generating ideas and visuals. Our production team will oversee a timely delivery. And our fulfillment team will make sure everything is picked, packed, and shipped to you with care

Promotional Products

Not just a cheap Giveaway.

Our promotional goods department can place your logo on almost anything you can think of.

Promotional items are traditionally thought of as cheap/throwaways. But we ensure that they will be meaningful and something people will want to hold on to. A good quality, useful, or clever item is at your finger tips.

We do Branding

Creative built with intention.

Built to be worn. Designed to be remembered.

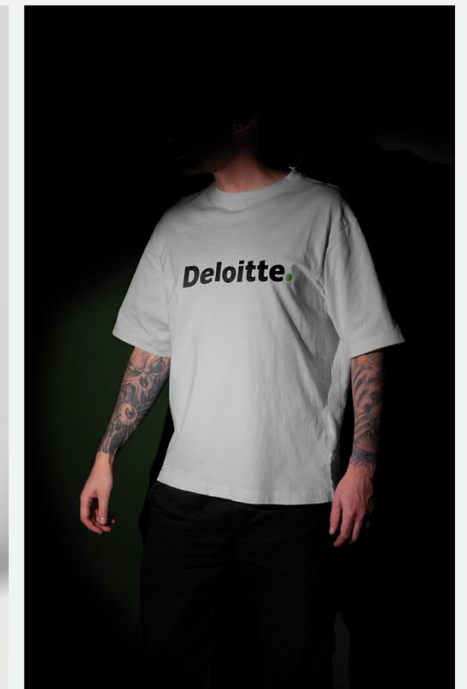

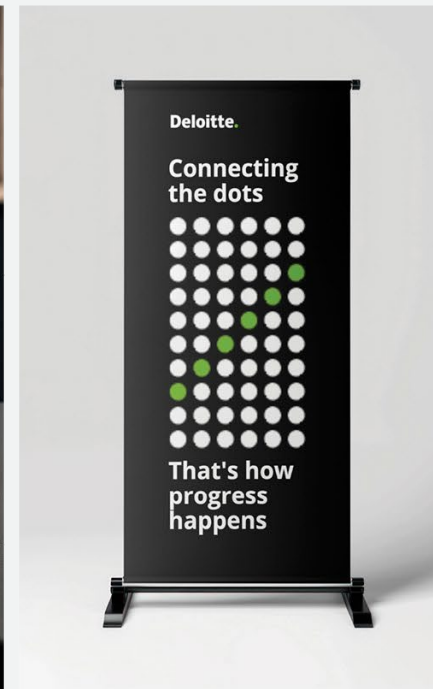

We create visual systems and branded products that help companies build stronger presence and deeper connection with their audience.

By combining design, sourcing, and creative direction, we turn ideas into experiences people genuinely want to represent.
