ROYC Partners with I Squared Capital to Power Wealth Channel Expansion

STOCKHOLM — 24 September, 2025 — ROYC, the leading global Platform-as-a-Service provider for alternative investments, today announced a strategic partnership with I Squared Capital, a leading independent global infrastructure investment manager. ROYC will serve as I Squared’s technology partner in Europe to support I Squared’s expansion into the private wealth channel.

This collaboration reflects both firms’ shared commitment to using best-in-class technology to expand access to private markets for all investors and improve the investor experience.

“Our mission is to remove the operational friction that has historically slowed strategies targeting the broader Private Wealth segment. By combining ROYC’s deep structuring expertise with our cloud-native operating system, we enable asset managers to scale efficiently and deliver seamless investor journeys,” said Octavian Popescu, CEO of ROYC.

“ROYC has been an important partner in developing our new wealth platform, which increases our access to capital. Infrastructure is at the heart of global growth. With aging assets and rising government deficits worldwide, the demand for private capital to finance high-quality infrastructure has never been greater. We see this as a compelling and expanding asset class,” said Gautam Bhandari, Global Chief Investment Officer and Managing Partner, I Squared.
