

PolarCool AB (publ.) Provides Updated Information on the Ongoing Delisting Process

PolarCool AB (publ.) (“PolarCool” or the “Company”) provides updated information on the ongoing process to delist the Company’s shares from Spotlight Stock Market. To address frequently asked questions, the Company has published a dedicated Q&A section on the Investor Relations page of its website, www.polarcap.com/.

Following the approval by the Extraordinary General Meeting on 4 August 2026 of the Board of Directors’ proposal to delist the Company’s shares, the process is proceeding according to plan. Under the applicable rules, an application for delisting may be submitted no earlier than three months after the market was informed of the Company’s intention to delist its shares. The exact last day of trading will be determined by Spotlight and announced by the Company as soon as the decision has been made.

The preliminary timetable for the remaining steps in the delisting process is as follows:

- 5 October 2026: The application for delisting will be submitted to Spotlight.
- October 2026: Spotlight will review the application and, if approved, determine the last day of trading.
- October 2026: The last day of trading is preliminarily expected to occur approximately two to three weeks after Spotlight’s decision.

Further information regarding the delisting process and the Company’s future capital markets strategy will be communicated on an ongoing basis.

A Q&A section addressing, among other matters, what the delisting means for existing shareholders, how the shares will be registered and may be transferred after the last day of trading, and how the Company will communicate information going forward has been published on PolarCool’s website.
