State Opportunity Index

South Dakota

State Summary 2026

South Dakota at a glance

THE STATE OPPORTUNITY INDEX is a framework for measuring and improving education-to-career outcomes. For each state, the Index reports the percentage of graduates who experience a positive return on investment and summarizes progress in five key areas for improving success beyond completion: Clear Outcomes, Quality Coaching, Affordability, Work-Based Learning, and Employer Alignment. States are grouped into four categories: Leading (at the forefront, demonstrating strong progress); Advanced (substantial progress); Developing (early stages of improvement); and Foundational (just beginning their journey).

South Dakota improved from Foundational to Developing in Employer Alignment. To learn more about progress in other states, visit strada.org/state-opportunity-index.

In cases in which the margin of error crosses a category threshold, states are given a combined category.
References for "unavailable" refer to states in which there was insufficient data to assign a rating at this time.

Positive ROI

	South Dakota	National
Overall	69%	70%
Bachelor's	69%	73%
Associate	68%	60%

All students who invest their time and money in earning a degree should be financially better off because of it. The Positive ROI value for each state represents the estimated percentage of public college graduates whose earnings premium over high school graduates is enough to repay their total cost of a degree within 10 years.

Percentage of graduates with Positive 10-year ROI by state - bachelor's degrees

Percentage of graduates with Positive 10-year ROI by state - associate degrees

Clear Outcomes

FOUNDATIONAL

Everyone should have access to accurate information on employment outcomes that can help them make informed decisions about education after high school. The Clear Outcomes measure is based on 10 critical elements that contribute to the capacity of state education-to-employment data systems to clarify education pathway outcomes in order to inform personal, public, and private sector investments.

South Dakota is not Leading in any element of its state data infrastructure, though integrating post-high school education and employment data (element 3) is a relative bright spot and is Advanced, along with 35 other states and jurisdictions. There are several areas for improvement, including enhanced wage records (element 2), integrating high school completion and employment data (element 4), open aggregate data (element 6), and verified data for learning mobility (element 9).

COLLECT

State data system elements	State description	Category
1. Includes learner-level and program characteristic data for nondegree and noncredit postsecondary education and training programs	South Dakota collects enrollment and credential outcome data from WIOA-eligible training providers. The state links these nondegree credentials to employment outcomes.	DEVELOPING
2. Examines earnings by occupation, pay rate, and work location	South Dakota does not collect any of the three enhanced elements, and Strada's research did not demonstrate an emerging collection policy.	FOUNDATIONAL

INTEGRATE

State data system elements	State description	Category
3. Integrates and delivers information on learners' earnings and employment after postsecondary education and training completion, and over time	South Dakota integrates administrative records on employment and earnings with its (i) public four-year institutions and (ii) technical colleges. The state publishes these postsecondary education-to-employment outcomes through the South Dakota Department of Labor and Regulation's annual Graduate Outcomes Job Placement Report. The state does not integrate information on employment and earnings from administrative sources with private four-year institutions.	ADVANCED
4. Integrates and delivers information on learners' earnings and employment after high school completion and over time	No evidence was identified through the state's response or in Strada's research of the state demonstrating this element.	FOUNDATIONAL
5. Partners with national and multi-state initiatives to assess education-to-opportunity outcomes for graduates and non-graduates of postsecondary education and training programs who relocate or work outside the state	South Dakota partners with PSEO (>75% graduate coverage) and the State Wage Interchange System.	ADVANCED

Quality Coaching

BACHELOR'S DEVELOPING ASSOCIATE UNAVAILABLE

Everyone should have access to coaching that helps them reflect on their talents and interests, choose a career goal, chart a path, and navigate challenges. The Quality Coaching measure is based on the percentage of associate students and bachelor's senior students who reported receiving personalized guidance, timely labor market information, and support to create a plan and overcome barriers.

This is the first report with available Quality Coaching data for students at South Dakota's bachelor's degree institutions, which are rated Developing overall, consistent with most other states. The rate of bachelor's students receiving labor market information by the end of their first year of college is above the national average. There are not yet sufficient data to report Quality Coaching for South Dakota's associate degree institutions.

Affordability

BACHELOR'S FOUNDATIONAL ASSOCIATE DEVELOPING

A quality postsecondary education should be within everyone's reach, with clear, predictable, and manageable costs. The Affordability measure is based on how many hours a week the average student would need to work to cover the in-state net price (total cost of attendance minus any grants and scholarships), how many hours a student from a low-income family would need to work to cover their typical in-state net price, and the percentage of students that complete their degree on time – a critical factor in the cost of a degree.

South Dakota trails most other states in overall affordability at both bachelor's and associate degree institutions, with net prices among the highest in the country. At the associate level, net prices for low-income students declined, though they remain above the national average, and the state remains Developing overall.

Work-Based Learning

BACHELOR'S DEV./ADV.

All students should have access to paid, immersive work-based learning experiences that connect education to career. The Work-Based Learning measure is based on the percentage of bachelor's senior students who reported participating in at least one of the following types of paid experiences: paid internship, paid apprenticeship, paid co-op, paid practicum, or paid undergraduate research experience. For students at associate degree institutions, participation is reported when data are available, but states are not categorized.

This is the first report with available work-based learning data for students at South Dakota's bachelor's degree institutions. The state's bachelor's students participate in paid work-based learning at higher rates than students nationally. There are not yet sufficient data to report work-based learning for South Dakota's associate degree institutions.

When the margin of error crosses a category threshold, states are given a combined category.

In addition to student self-reporting of apprenticeship participation, states have other sources of information on participation in registered apprenticeships via the U.S. Department of Labor. In South Dakota, 0.32 percent of the state labor force is made up of active apprentices, for a total of 1,570 apprentices. Across the country, this number ranges from 0.86 percent (Hawaii) to 0.12 percent (Oklahoma). In countries with leading apprenticeship systems, such as Germany, Switzerland, Australia, Canada, and England, apprentices constitute about 2.5-3.0 percent of the labor force, so all states in the U.S. have substantial room for improvement.

Employer Alignment

DEVELOPING

Students should have access to programs that lead to quality jobs and employers should be able to find the talent they need to fill high-wage roles. The Employer Alignment measure is based on the percentage of terminal bachelor's degree holders aged 25-34 employed in a college-level job as well as the supply/demand ratio for a set of high-demand, high-wage jobs in each state.

College-level employment in South Dakota is 56 percent, compared to 60 percent nationally. South Dakota improved from Foundational to Developing overall in Employer Alignment. Though it remains Foundational in its overall supply/demand ratio, ratios for manufacturing/trades technicians and technologists improved from Foundational to Advanced.

If we get this right, here's what the future could look like: A young person or adult explores options with a career coach. They have data on jobs and earnings by program. They know costs up front, and public options are affordable and accessible. They engage in paid work-based learning, building skills and clarifying goals. By completion, they don't just hold a credential (or a few).
They have a good job, experience, and momentum toward a better future.
