

PAUL EPSTEIN STAGE INTRO

(to be read by the person introducing Paul at your event)

Our speaker today believes WINNING MONDAY is the only habit you need to drive growth, build momentum, and deliver championship results like a business athlete.

He spent 15 years as a professional sports executive, leading billion-dollar NFL campaigns, breaking Super Bowl revenue records, and driving record-setting sales for NBA teams that were once known as the worst franchise in sports history.

Now as a 2-time bestselling author and award-winning speaker, his WIN MONDAY habit-building playbook has been proven in over 50 industries and featured on ESPN, NBC, Fox Business, and USA Today, leading to SUCCESS magazine recognizing Paul as a top thought leader that gets results.

Offstage, he is a proud father of PJ and Lucca, married his best friend on the field of Levi's Stadium, and has a slight obsession with bacon – just don't make it too crispy.

Please help me welcome... Paul Epstein!
