A peek at what we are currently learning...

The 3K class is learning a great daily. In the classroom the children have had a lot of fun hatching eight Khaki Campbell ducks. We received the duck eggs in an incubator from Quiver Farm in PA. All eight eggs hatched and the children got to enjoy the little ducklings for a week before they had to return them to the farm.

Our next unit of study will be on "Trees". Talk to your child about what trees need to grow. Explain what the roots are for and why plants need water, sunlight and soil to grow.

Student of the Month

Adrianna Berroa

Adrianna is a great listener. She pays attention to details in our daily read aloud. She is kind and considerate to everyone in the classroom and is very much liked by all. She is truly a wonderful student and shows great potential. She is helpful and very much a team player in our classroom.

Daily Routine

The children have become accustomed to the classroom rules at this point in time. They are enjoying their friends and the various areas of play in the classroom. They are able to sit and enjoy unit lessons and listen to the read aloud daily in class. Their attention span has increased greatly from earlier in the school year. We extended our unit on water so for December we will be studying Trees.

Our Wonderful Classroom

We plan to get more creatures from Quiver Farm, to enjoy this school year. We may get baby rabbits and also someone from the farm will come with apples and a press to make apple cider for the children. In the Spring I will get them butterflies to grow.
