What We've Been Doing

Our little builders have been learning about the different types of roles construction workers have (architect, electrician, plumber etc.). They created blueprints of houses they would want and talked about the materials they should use to build a sturdy structure.

We have been playing number recognition games and continuously engaged in phonics and writing

Getting Ready for Kindergarten

We will compare how kindergarten is similar and different from preschool. We will visit the kindergarten class to observe a lesson.

Student of the Month Dylan Dyce Jr.

Dylan has come out of his shell, displaying his funny side. He is also attentive and engaged during instructional time, but also with his teachers and peers.

Reminders

- School is still in session (8am-2:20pm) so learning is still happening.
- The children are also practicing for their moving up ceremony. (Boys wear navy or black suits; girls wear white dresses)
- The weather is hot and they go out outside daily, please send the children in closed toe shoes and sneakers.
