in 30 seconds

Wolfgang Eder is a keynote speaker, university lecturer, executive coach, and AI-EQ pioneer.

He addresses one of the defining questions of our time: how will humans and Artificial Intelligence work together as a team in the future?

In his talks, he shows in a practical way how leaders can form and lead Human-AI teams, integrate AI meaningfully into their processes, and leverage emotional intelligence as a decisive success factor. His focus is not on tools, but on shaping our relationship with AI, on collaboration, and on organisational and individual effectiveness — so that AI can evolve from a technical aid into a genuine superpower.
