

At INEX, we're committed to a safe, respectful, and inclusive environment. If something doesn't look or feel right, we want you to feel confident speaking up.

Our complaints, grievances and request for information mechanism provides a channel for you to raise any concerns in a discreet, secure way - whether you're a contractor, supplier or community member.

What can I report?

Anyone can report misconduct, illegal, unethical or unsafe behaviour observed at INEX.

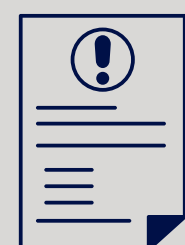

How do I make a report?

Any grievances, complaints or requests for information can be made through the 'Contact' form on the INEX website. You can also lodge a complaint through our whistleblowing service.

No matter how you're raising your concern, you can remain anonymous.

What happens next?

We commit to reviewing your concern and, if needed, investigating fairly and confidentially. You'll be kept informed if you've shared your contact details. You can read the full process here.

You're protected.

INEX does not tolerate retaliation against anyone who has lodged a complaint or grievance.
