Learning Objectives

After attending this program, participants will be able to:

- Identify three important concepts from the APA Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code of Conduct for psychologists to know when performing assessments.
  - Identify one ethical dilemma and one appropriate resolution of that dilemma using the assessment section of the Specialty Guidelines for Forensic Psychology.
  - Name three important considerations for psychologists to use in ethical decision making.
  - Describe the two prongs of Dusky v. United States which are central for forensic psychologists to assess when performing competency evaluations.
  - Identify an important consideration in the ethical use of IQ tests.
  - Identify a landmark case related to waiver (transfer) evaluations and provide the key finding of that case for forensic psychologists conducting such evaluations.

Meet the Speaker

Karyn Gust-Brey, Ph.D.

Psychology Director, Mendota Mental Health Institute

Karyn L. Gust-Brey, Ph.D. has been a licensed psychologist since 2000. She worked in the Wisconsin Department of Corrections (DOC) Division of Juvenile Corrections (DJC) at the former Ethan Allen School (EAS) for 13 years as a psychology intern, psychological associate, and licensed psychologist. She has worked for the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) at Mendota Mental Health Institute (MMHI) since 2013, where she was a unit psychologist; a psychology supervisor in the completion of inpatient competency evaluations, competency restoration treatment, and psychological evaluations in an adult forensic program; and now the director of the psychology department in charge of evaluations and training, including the director for the psychology internship/postdoctoral fellowship. She has maintained a private practice specializing in forensic juvenile evaluations since 2014. She has taught graduate assessment courses and has supervised practicum students, externs, predoctoral interns, and postdoctoral fellows in treatment and assessment.
