At Idaho Foot & Ankle Center, we provide foot and ankle services for patients throughout the Idaho Falls and Rexburg areas. With proper diagnosis and treatment, we can treat most foot and ankle problems! Our process is clear. The podiatrist specialists of Idaho Foot & Ankle Center will first listen to your symptoms, provide you with an individualized treatment, and prepare a plan to help get you back to the activities you love! We now have two doctors, Dr. Kylin Kovac and Dr. Jed Erickson, who have dedicated their lives to helping people with foot and ankle pain.

At a young age, Dr. Kovac was inspired by his grandfather who lost both of his legs due to diabetes. His desire was to gain a greater education in an effort to help others avoid that same outcome. He has extensive training in the challenges of diabetic patients in performing limb salvage and diabetic wound care. Dr. Kovac's training in foot and ankle surgery includes everything from hammertoes and bunions to ankle fractures and complex foot and ankle reconstructions.

Dr. Kovac is committed to improving your foot and ankle health concerns through both conservative and surgical methods. In his spare time, he enjoys sports, biking, outdoor activities, and spending time with his wife and six children.

Dr. Erickson was first exposed to Podiatry while serving a mission for his church in the Philippines. Dr. Erickson was able to see first-hand the complex congenital deformities and the life-long disabilities this caused among the Filipino people. While serving there, he came in contact with a group of physicians who were on a medical mission providing reconstructive surgeries for clubfoot deformities. This experience was Dr. Erickson's inspiration to seek out a career in the medical field and specifically directed to providing quality care and management through both conservative and surgical methods of the foot and ankle .

Dr. Erickson loves spending time with his family. He and his wife Emily have 4 beautiful children. Dr. Erickson enjoys watching and coaching their sporting activities. He also loves playing sports, including rodeo, where he still competes regularly in Team Roping. Dr. Kovac and Dr. Erickson have comprehensive training in Podiatric Surgery, Trauma Surgery, Pediatric Injuries, and Reconstructive Surgery. They also have extensive training in limb salvage and wound care.
