 -Debbie T Nelson asked for prayers for her friend Brenda Horton. She had a stimulator placed to help with her pain. Prayers it starts working for her soon. Debbie also asked for prayers for her son-in-law Steve Greco & her grandsons Clayton & Zach. Steve is in Cottage ICU battling cancer that he has had for many years. Prayers for him & the boys.
 -Alora Cottam asked for prayers for her friend Cheryl Gregory. She is having a difficult time. Alora would also like to thank everyone for the prayers. They are working!
 -It's great to have Loretta & Tracy Bower home from their trips. Welcome back!
 -Please continue to keep Roy Senior's cousin Greg & his family in your prayers. Greg is now in a rehab facility to receive the specific help he needs to recover.

ENCOURAGING WORDS

Words Have Meanings

Our words obviously have definitions, so it is important to use words with a full understanding of what each word means! One of the problems which have led to religious division is a failure to define words of the New Testament as they were used in the first century. One would never come to the conclusion that sprinkling is baptism if it were understood that the word "baptism" in the first century always meant "to dip, to submerge." Many years ago, we ran into an employee of a client at Albertsons here in Lompoc after church one Sunday. He asked why we were all "dressed up" and I explained that we just left "church." He said he too was religious but couldn't recall of what "religion." So, he shouted out to his wife in the vegetable section and asked her what religion he was. She replied that he was a Christian but had no idea beyond that.
 So, consider this: If a doctor has no office, has no patients, prescribes no medicine, diagnoses no illness, does no medical exams, and receives no pay, is he a doctor? Whenever he has stopped doing those things which doctors do, he is no longer a doctor. If a farmer plows no land, buys no seed, plants no crops, feeds no animals, never harvests anything, is he a farmer? Whenever he has stopped doing those things which farmers do, he is no longer a farmer. Now make the spiritual application of this principle. If a Christian stops attending worship, sings no hymns of praise, never bows his head to pray with others, never gives, never reads the Bible, never sits in Bible classes or hears sermons, is he a Christian? Whenever he has stopped doing those things which Christians do, he is no longer a Christian. Remember the inspired words of Paul: "I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. The life I now live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God, Who loved me and gave Himself for me." Gal. 2:20
