ENCOURAGING WORDS

Abusing God's Patience

Have you ever ignored a nagging sense of conviction in your heart? Maybe you rationalized wrongdoing with the thought that if God were really upset, He'd put a stop to things by disciplining you. Psalm 50:16-21– reminds us that the silence of heaven does not mean approval. Remaining in sin is an abuse of the Lord's patience.

When God seems slow to react, we might hope He's overlooking our transgressions—we'd like to continue in sin because the momentary pleasure is more appealing than obedience. But thankfully, the Father knows our weaknesses, and the state of our spiritual growth, and He therefore measures His response. Motivated by love and a desire to gently restore His children to righteousness, God refrains from instantly doling out punishment. Instead, He waits for the Holy Spirit's prodding's to impact the believer's heart. The weight of conviction is actually an invitation to turn from wrongdoing and return to godliness.

However, we're stubborn people. There are times when we persist in sin because the sentence against an evil deed isn't executed quickly. (Ecc. 8:11) In this dangerous situation, it's possible to immerse ourselves in sin and harden our heart against the Lord. Then the Holy Spirit's call to repentance falls on spiritual ears rapidly going deaf.

As we learn and understand more about God and His ways, we are increasingly responsible to live righteously. Our heavenly Father is not slow; He's patient. But don't abuse that patience with callous disregard for His statutes. Repent and be holy in the sight of the Lord!
