

OVERVIEW

Giving Green is a guide for individuals and businesses to make more effective climate-giving decisions. It performs research and recommends effective climate initiatives. Giving Green provides evidence-based and cost-effective climate initiatives to help donors and businesses make informed decisions about their climate-related contributions.

Website Access

Contact Point
Dan Stein

Geographic Focus
Global

HQ Location
Remote

Thematic Priorities

Evidence-based Giving Providing donors with research-backed recommendations for high-impact climate initiatives	Cost-Effective Climate Solutions Identifying and promoting cost-effective strategies to address climate change	Political Advocacy Encouraging support for organizations that drive policy change related to climate issues	High-Impact Philanthropy Helping donors maximize the impact of their climate-related donations
--	---	--	---

Services Offered

Consulting Offering consulting services on grantee due diligence and climate grantmaking strategy	Research &amp; Recommendations Conducting extensive research on climate philanthropy, as well as climate strategies for businesses and investors.	Funding The Giving Green Fund is a climate grantmaking fund designed to maximize the climate mitigation impact of charitable donations
--	--	---

Partners and Stakeholders

- Individual Donors: guiding those seeking to make impactful climate donations.
- Businesses: Advising companies on effective climate investment strategies and philanthropy.
- Philanthropies: Collaborating with philanthropic organizations to amplify the impact of climate giving.
- Recommended Organizations: Supporting and promoting organizations identified as highly effective in addressing climate change.

News & Updates | Giving Green