We speak your students' language in every sense:

What We Offer

Every student is carefully matched with a rigorously vetted specialist based on their background, language, and presenting needs. Scheduling is quick and very easy.

Human. Focused. Tailored

- 01 Short-Term Counseling
 Solution-focused, culturally informed support for anxiety, adjustment difficulties, work-life balance, stress management, homesickness, relationship stress, and navigating the emotional weight of studying far from home.
- 02 Risk Assessment & Crisis Consultation
 Standardized Mental Health Risk Assessments aimed to draft clear actions plans for supporting students in crisis. Fast, documented, and professionally handled. For when you need an expert on the phone — not a helpline.

- 04 Staff Support
 Practical sessions for student-facing staff on spotting struggling students early, having difficult conversations, and knowing when and how to refer. Staff counseling also available.

What Our Partners Say

Dr. Maria Anderson-Long
 Head of Student Life,
 Bard College Berlin

I am always grateful for our partnership with Linden and the counseling and support that they provide to our students at Bard College Berlin. Their team is always willing to adapt to the shifting needs of our students, and have also stepped up during times of global crisis to provide additional resources and group therapy to our student community. Collaborating with Linden offers me the peace of mind that our students are in capable hands and have access to caring, interculturally sensitive mental health support whenever they need it.

- CISI & some international insurers accepted
- No formal contract required

02 –Embedded Mental Health Partner

Let's talk about your students.

We'd love to have an initial conversation and discuss your student population, what support needs tend to arise, and which partnership model makes most sense.
