ophélie (Refuge Worldwide)

ophélie is a French, Berlin-based DJ and producer with an affinity for low frequencies, intricate percussions and bass-heavy music in all its forms. As an early lover of dub music, UK techno, IDM, and illegal raves, their sound often finds itself at the intersection between dubstep, hypnotic techno, and drum & bass, with hints of psychedelic music, ambient, trance and dream pop. They are interested in the fluid, organic, and often melancholic aspect of music, achieved through combining multiple layers of sounds, creating weird (poly)rhythms, and drawing inspiration from natural landscapes, such as the forest and ocean.

As a producer, they enjoy experimenting with FX, textures and generative sounds, and all different kinds of percussions. They have performed in several renowned European festivals and venues, such as Atonal, Positive Education, FOLD, Tresor Berlin, Ankali, The Cause, or Garage Noord, released music on labels such as subglow, Pressure Dome, Bait, Osmura, hundert, or Early Reflex, and have a residency show on Refuge Worldwide.

As part of Open Music Lab, a non-profit collective offering free music production and DJ courses for people from Berlin's diverse communities to connect and create together, she's interested in ways to support emerging artists outside the mainstream, with the aim to build a more equitable music scene.
