Job Summary

We are seeking a skilled FP&A Analyst to support financial planning, reporting, and company-wide decision-making. This role is hired as a full-time contractor, 100% remote, with payment in USD. Candidates must be based in Latin America (LATAM) and have strong English communication skills.

Responsibilities

- Oversee financial planning, forecasting, and budgeting processes across the organization.
- Develop and maintain dynamic financial models to support business scenarios and capital allocation decisions.
- Analyze large datasets from SAP Business One and other systems to improve cost visibility and margin analysis.
- Build dashboards and financial reports for executives and department leaders using tools such as Tableau, Power BI, or similar.
- Support month-end close activities, including P&L variance analysis, KPI tracking, and operational insights.
- Conduct product and customer profitability analyzes and assist with cost accounting reviews.
- Collaborate with sales, operations, and procurement teams to improve financial performance and data accuracy.
- Support board-level presentations and private equity reporting as required.

Qualifications

- Strong financial modeling and analytical skills.
- Experience working with ERP systems (SAP Business One preferred).
- Advanced Excel proficiency and experience with reporting and dashboard tools (Tableau, Power BI, or similar).
- Ability to work collaboratively in a fast-paced, cross-functional environment.
- English proficiency: C1 level or above (written and spoken).
- Must be based in Latin America (LATAM).
- Availability to work full-time as a remote contractor.
- CV must be submitted in English and be free of grammatical or spelling errors.
