Job Title

Senior Full-Stack Developer

Location

Remote

Client

Undisclosed

Responsibilities

- Own end-to-end development of features across our web stack — from design to production support
- Work across React (frontend) and NestJS (backend) in a TypeScript monorepo
- Design and document APIs (REST and GraphQL) consumed by web and mobile clients
- Build scalable systems with PostgreSQL and cloud-native patterns (AWS / GCP)
- Improve developer experience and system reliability through better tooling, observability, and CI/CD
- Collaborate closely with product, design, and community teams to deliver features that power growth and engagement
- Help shape architecture decisions and tech strategy as we scale

Qualifications

- 5+ years experience building full-stack web applications in production
- Strong TypeScript skills across both frontend and backend
- Deep experience with React and NestJS (and similar frameworks like Express)
- Solid understanding of PostgreSQL, including performance tuning and indexing
- Comfort with cloud environments (AWS, GCP, or Azure) – provisioning, permissions, automation
- Familiarity with CI/CD workflows and tooling
- Experience owning and shipping features end-to-end in a startup or fast-moving environment
- Clear, collaborative communication style
