

GALLIPOLI FUNERAL FUND LIMITED

Product Disclosure Statement
September 2025

What This Document Is About

This document is known as a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS).

It contains important information that you should consider before making your final decision to become a member of the Gallipoli Funeral Fund Limited (GFF) ABN 18 165 384 421. This PDS is aimed at enabling you to make an informed choice about our Offer of Membership for GFF.

This PDS contains general information only. We recommend that you seek independent personal financial advice before you become a member of GFF, having regard to your own personal needs, financial situation, and objectives.

If you decide to become a member of GFF, you will need to complete the application form attached to this PDS and submit it in accordance with the instructions set out on the form, upon which you will be issued with an invoice and details of your membership, including your policy. Please keep a copy of this PDS and your application and your policy schedule in a safe place, as collectively they all form your agreement with GFF.

Please read this PDS carefully so that you can understand how your membership works. You should be aware that there are risks involved with taking out a financial product.

Please see section 19. What Are the Risks of Being a Member of GFF? of this PDS (below) for more information.

1. Who is the Issuer of this PDS?

GFF, a public company limited by guarantee, whose registered address is at 15-19 Gelibolu Parade Auburn NSW 2144, is the issuer of this Offer of Membership as outlined in this PDS.

GFF is responsible for the entirety of this PDS. GFF is part of a group of charitable entities which are owned and controlled by Gallipoli Turkish Cultural Foundation Limited (ABN 18 044 027 709). GFF was incorporated on 20 August 2013 under the name UTIC Funeral Fund Limited (and whose name change to Gallipoli Funeral Fund Limited occurred on 22 March 2022).

GFF is the holder of the Australian financial services licence 540427 (AFSL) and is regulated by the Australian Security and Investments Commission (ASIC). GFF is responsible for managing and operating the GFF on behalf of its members. GFF is managed by a Board of Directors who possess relevant qualifications and expertise, including accounting, finance and Islamic jurisprudence.

In this PDS, unless otherwise expressly set out or the context otherwise suggests, the terms:

- ‘we’, ‘us’ and ‘our’ refer to GFF;
- All monetary amounts are in Australian Dollars and inclusive of GST; and
- All dates are in accordance with the Gregorian calendar.

2. What is the GFF?

GFF was established to provide each member, upon their death, a fixed cash benefit paid to their nominated beneficiary, who may be a family member, legal representative, or funeral service provider anywhere in Australia. This benefit is intended to assist with the cost of funeral and burial arrangements in line with the member's wishes and consistent with Islamic funeral principles. The benefit is payable in exchange for the member's payment of an entry fee (where applicable) and an annual premium during their lifetime. GFF is a provider of "funeral expenses facility" for the purposes of the Corporations Act (section 761A).

3. Why funeral product (Funeral Expense Facility) is created?

The Funeral Expense Facility (FEF) is purposefully designed to assist members and their loved ones to have peace of mind at a very difficult time of death, by helping towards the cost of funeral services. Any death is challenging, and many Muslim families struggle financially to fund funeral costs after losing a husband, father, mother, wife, sibling or other main providers of the family.

The FEF allows members to meet funeral expenses with serenity and tranquillity, with the help from Allah the Almighty. The FEF product operates on the concept of mutual assistance. Allah the Almighty instructs Muslims: "Provide mutual assistance in good deeds and piety," Al Qur'an (5:2).

In the FEF product, the members mutually assist one another even if a member is yet to contribute the full expense of the funeral service. Fund members continue to pay premiums to receive funeral services for themselves and provide mutual help in addition to meeting the membership maintenance costs. As the GFF is a not-for-profit organisation, potential profits are utilised for a better customer service and other membership benefits. No profit is distributed to shareholders or directors of the company.

4. What funeral products are offered?

GFF offers two funeral products:

- Single Funeral Facility: this product provides a fixed benefit of $11,500, payable to the nominated beneficiary, intended to assist with the cost of a single burial and funeral service.
- Double Funeral Facility: this product provides a total fixed benefit of $17,000, paid in two separate amounts for two people such as couples (husband and wife), a parent and a child, two siblings or two relatives/friends:
 - $11,500 for the first funeral – intended to assist with the cost of burial in a double plot and a funeral service; and
 - $5,500 for the second funeral – intended to cover the cost of reopening the plot and a funeral service.

5. Who is eligible to become a member of GFF?

Membership to the GFF is open to all Australian citizens and permanent residents, regardless of age upon submission and acceptance of his/her application form, payment of an entry fee where applicable and the annual premium.

Membership to GFF is on an individual basis and it is not assignable or transferable to any other person. There are no family package memberships or other group memberships to the GFF

6. What are the entry fees for membership to GFF?

The entry fees for membership to GFF are based on age. The table below provides the entry fee payable for members in as at the PDS date:

Age Group at time of becoming a member	Entry Fee ($): Single Facility	Entry Fee ($): Double Facility
Under 50	Free	Free
50-54	950	Free
55-59	2,450	1,700
60-64	3,950	4,600
65-69	5,350	7,400
70-74	6,650	9,950
75-79	8,050	12,600
80 plus or suffer from a terminal illness	9,300	15,150

A member can pay his/her entry fee in three equal instalments, with the first instalment due on the commencement of GFF membership and then two further instalments on an annual basis thereafter.

If a member dies prior to full payment of his/her entry fee (e.g. within 2 years of becoming a member), then the outstanding entry fees and annual premiums must be paid by the estate of the deceased member to qualify for the benefits.

Each member in their application, will be required to declare that they do not have a terminal illness. Any applicant who fails to declare that they do not have a terminal illness, will be deemed to be subject to the highest entry fee for membership (regardless of actual age).

GFF may, based on reliable actuarial data or on other relevant demographic factors, vary the entry fee for some or all age groups) in accordance with its assessed risk profile. The entry fee may also be adjusted to account for CPI fluctuations.

7. What are the annual premiums for membership to GFF?

In addition to the entry fee, each member is required to pay an annual premium during his/her lifetime to maintain his/her membership status in GFF. The table following shows the annual premium payable for a member as at the PDS date:

Age Group of members	Annual Premium payable ($) : Single Facility	Annual Premium payable ($) : Double Facility
Under 40	420	630
40-44	450	675
45-49	480	720
50-54	510	765
55-59	540	810
60-64	570	855
65-69	600	900
70-74	630	1,035
75-79	660	1,080
80 plus or suffer from a terminal illness	690	1,125

* For the double facility, after the passing away of the 1st member, a benefit equal to the single grave facility Equivalent Payment will be provided with the remaining benefit payable after the passing away of the 2nd member. Annual premiums will also be halved after the 1st deceased.

The annual premium is payable in full or in 12 equal monthly instalments upon becoming a member. GFF reserves the right to charge a member the late payment fee, calculated using the usual return on funds GFF ordinarily would have received had the member paid the outstanding amount by its due date for payment.

GFF may vary annual premiums for some or all age groups based on reliable actuarial data or other relevant demographic factors. Any change will take effect on the Effective Date specified in the notice, and members will receive at least 30 days' prior written notice. Annual payers are pro-rated from the Effective Date; monthly payers change from the first debit on/after the Effective Date. GFF will not vary a member's premium more than once in any 12-month period, other than any CPI rounding adjustment disclosed in advance.

8. What are the benefits of being a member of GFF?

GFF provides members with a facility to save towards funeral expenses through the payment of a fixed cash benefit to a nominated beneficiary upon the member's death. This benefit is intended to help ensure that the member's funeral and burial can be arranged in line with their wishes and consistent with Islamic funeral principles, without leaving their loved ones to bear the full financial burden.

Upon the death of a member, GFF will pay the fixed benefit amount directly to the member's nominated beneficiary, who may be:

- A family member or legal representative; or
- A funeral service provider (anywhere in Australia).

Benefit amounts (current at the date of this PDS):

- Single Facility – $11,500, intended to assist with the cost of a single burial and funeral service;
- Double Facility – $17,000 total, paid in two stages:
 - $11,500 for the first funeral (intended to assist with the cost of burial in a double plot and a funeral service); and
 - $5,500 for the second funeral (intended to assist with the cost of reopening the plot and a funeral service).

The benefit is paid regardless of the actual funeral costs. If the funeral costs are less than the benefit amount, the remaining balance will be paid to the secondary beneficiary or to the estate if none is nominated. If the funeral costs are higher, the estate or family will pay the difference.

If the member has pre-booked and/or pre-paid a burial plot, the benefit will still be paid in full to the nominated beneficiary, who may apply the funds to other funeral-related expenses or as directed under the member's Will or estate administration.

Before making payment, GFF may require the deceased member's executor or legal representative to provide reasonable evidence of their authority to receive the benefit and, if the nominated beneficiary is a legal representative, to confirm that the funds will be used in accordance with the member's expressed wishes and consistent with Islamic funeral principles.

In normal cases, payment will be made within 48 hours of GFF receiving all required documentation and confirmation of any outstanding amounts owed to GFF.

Payment of the entry fee, any applicable gap payment, and annual premiums also contributes to GFF's administration costs and ensures that sufficient funds are available to provide benefits to all members.

Provider assistance: On request, we can share general information about funeral service providers in your area, including providers that follow Islamic funeral principles and your needs. We do not recommend or endorse providers, and we do not arrange or coordinate services. Any engagement is between your beneficiary or legal representative and the provider. We receive no fees or commissions. Our role is limited to paying the benefit. This assistance is optional.

9. What disqualifies receipt of the benefits?

The only circumstances in which a deceased member is disqualified from receiving any benefits under the GFF, are:

- a. if that member is in arrears of payment of the entry fee, annual premium or any other amounts owing to GFF.
- b. if that member (or his/her representative) is reasonably suspected to have made a false declaration or undertaking to GFF (e.g. a false terminal illness declaration upon becoming a member); or
- c. if GFF reasonably suspects that the deceased member (through his/her last Will and Testament or otherwise) is not, by prevailing law, to receive a traditional Islamic funeral service and burial.

In respect of paragraph, if GFF reasonably suspects that the deceased member (through his/her last Will and Testament or otherwise) is not, by prevailing law, to receive a traditional Islamic funeral service and burial. above, for members to ensure that they (or their legal representatives) receive membership benefits upon death, it is recommended that each member has his/her own Last Will and Testament in which a suitable executor is appointed and in which the member expressly specifies the wish for his/her body to be buried in accordance with traditional Islamic funeral services and burial rites, at a place in which the executor deems appropriate at his/her discretion.

10. When will your membership and cover be deemed to start?

Immediately upon our receipt of your completed application form and our receipt of your entry fee and annual premium for the remainder of the first calendar year (as per our invoice to you), you will be deemed to be a member of the GFF and you will be entitled to the benefits of being a member, subject to the terms of this PDS.

11. When will your membership and cover be deemed to end?

Your membership in GFF will be deemed to end on the first to occur of the following circumstances:

- a. You choose to cancel your membership in GFF within 30 days of becoming a member ("Cooling Off Period");
- b. You fail to pay any part of your entry fee, annual premiums or any late payment fee within 30 days of becoming due and GFF provides written notice to you of such overdue amount, you (or your appointed representatives) fail to pay such overdue amount within the 30 days' notice period and GFF provides written notice to you of termination of your membership prior to your settlement of any arrears; or
- c. Upon your death and GFF's payment of the benefit to your nominated beneficiary or legal representative.

12. Can I get a refund on any entry fee, annual premiums or other amounts?

We offer a full 30-day money back guarantee, giving you time, after becoming a member, to make sure it's right for you. There are no hidden catches – if you provide written notice to us within 30 days of becoming a member (i.e. during the Cooling Off Period) that you wish to cancel your membership, we will give you a full refund of any amounts paid to us to become a member (including any entry fee, gap fee and annual premium that may have been paid).

If you do cancel your membership after the Cooling Off Period or your membership is terminated due to your failure to comply with your obligations as set out in this PDS (including your obligation to pay your entry fee and annual premiums when due), you shall only be entitled to a refund of the entry and any gap fee amounts that you have paid to GFF. All annual fee payments that you have made to GFF shall be forfeited and may be used by GFF for its operational costs, the benefit of other members and otherwise in accordance with the terms of this PDS.

13. When and how do I pay my entry fee, gap fee, annual premiums and other amounts?

The entry fee, where applicable, is payable upon becoming a member. Members can choose from the following payment options:

Upfront – Pay the full amount at the time of joining.

- Annual instalments – Pay the entry fee in 3 equal yearly payments over 2 years: first on joining, second on your 1-year anniversary, and third on your 2-year anniversary.
- Quarterly instalments – Pay the entry fee in 8 equal quarterly payments over 2 years.
- Monthly instalments – Pay the entry fee in 24 equal monthly payments over 2 years.

If a member dies before the entry fee is paid in full, the outstanding entry fee must be paid by the estate of the deceased member to qualify for the benefits.

The annual premium is payable in full each year or in 12 equal monthly instalments. If a member dies before paying the full annual premium for the current year (or any previous year), the outstanding premium must be paid by the estate of the deceased member to qualify for the benefits.

After you submit a completed application form, we will assess the entry fee and annual premium payable and invoice you accordingly (and confirm your date of membership). Upon payment of the amounts invoiced, you will be deemed to be a member of GFF.

Payment may be made through electronic funds transfer to:

Account Name: Gallipoli Funeral Fund Limited

Bank: Commonwealth

BSB: 062 000

or such other bank account that we may notify you to make payments for the purposes of your membership from time to time.

For members opting to provide the direct deposit authority through our service provider, GFF will accept payment of the annual premium in twelve equal monthly instalments during any calendar year of the member's lifetime.

14. What happens if I run into financial hardship?

A member may request to pause their membership by providing written notice to GFF explaining their circumstances. This option is available if they cannot afford to pay their ongoing annual fees due to financial hardship. If a member passes away during this period, they must pay all outstanding annual fees to claim the benefit. If this is not possible, the membership will be cancelled, and any entry and gap amounts paid will be refunded.

15. How to claim your benefits?

Upon the death of a member, the deceased member's legal representative must immediately advise GFF of:

- a. the death of the member;
- b. any preference for funeral service provider or burial location (as expressed by the member in his/her last Will and Testament, by family members or otherwise);
- c. whether the member has a pre-paid and/or pre-booked burial plot; and
- d. any other details relevant to the funeral services or burial as requested by GFF (or their appointed service provider).

GFF will then inform the deceased member's legal representative of whether there is any outstanding payment or other matters required for the member (or their estate) to qualify for receipt of benefits. Once confirmed, GFF will pay the benefit amount directly to the nominated beneficiary, who will arrange the funeral and burial in line with the member's wishes.

16. Who receives the Equivalent Payment?

You can nominate one or more beneficiaries over the age of 18 to receive the Equivalent Payment. In all cases, GFF pays the benefit amount directly to the nominated beneficiary after your death and you do not have a validly appointed executor under your Last Will and Testament, the Benefit Payment will be made to your surviving nominated beneficiary. If there is no surviving nominated beneficiary and you die intestate (without any Last Will and Testament), GFF may make the Equivalent Payment to your next of kin in accordance with Islamic tradition.

It is recommended that each member validly executes a Last Will and Testament and clearly expresses its nominated beneficiary for any Equivalent Payment that may be made by GFF, and to notify GFF accordingly. A member may change any nominated beneficiary at any time during his/her lifetime, by providing written notice to GFF.

17. How long will GFF take to make the Equivalent Payment?

In cases in which GFF opts to make the Benefit Payment, it will generally make such payment within 48 hours of receiving all outstanding amounts and other requirements from a member's estate or representatives.

18. Does GFFL invest the funds of members?

GFF will invest the funds and payments of members in shariah compliant, low risk, short/long-term cash deposits, securities and/or wealth management products. The primary objective of GFF is to provide the benefits to its members following their death and GFF will take all reasonable precautions to ensure that it has adequate funds available when needed to provide a member with his/her benefits promptly upon that member's death.

19. What are the risks in becoming a member of GFF?

Becoming a member of the GFF, is not without risk. The risks involved in becoming a member of GFF, include:

- a. not being able to receive a refund for annual premiums paid to GFF after the Cooling Off Period;
- b. GFF not having adequate liquidity to meet its financial obligations as and when they fall due, including:
 - I. if there is a higher incidence of death of members than projected at any point in time (e.g. due to pandemic, war, etc);
 - II. If any of the holders of the funds (including financial institutions) or investment vehicles default on their repayment obligations to GFF or suffer unexpected losses in the investment of funds. You should consider if this product meets your needs both now and in the future.

You may need to seek assistance from a financial adviser to assist you to determine if the terms are consistent with your objectives, financial situation and needs.

20. What are GFF's risk management processes?

GFF will have sound risk management procedures in place to ensure that it is able to meet all its financial commitments to members as and when they fall due.

GFF's Board of Directors will review and monitor the business, including its working capital, budget and financial results on at least a quarterly basis, and rectify any issues that may compromise its ability to meet its obligations to members and/or may jeopardise its compliance with legal, regulatory, internal policy and procedural requirements.

GFF will appoint external auditors to conduct and report, at the end of each financial year, to the Board of Directors on the financial performance and compliance issues of GFF and its management of the entity. The Board of Directors will ensure that any qualifications raised in any audit report are addressed as soon as reasonably practicable. The audit report will be provided to ASIC within four months of the end of each financial year.

GFF will employ suitably qualified staff to ensure that the day-to-day management and operation of GFF delivers the benefits to members as outlined in this PDS in an efficient and optimal manner.

The Board of Directors and its staff will ensure that they implement suitable compliance procedures to ensure that GFF meets all its obligations in terms of financial services laws and regulations and its AFSL obligations.

The Board of Directors will set the entry fees and annual premiums for members of GFF based on the recommendations of reliable actuarial data or on other relevant demographic factors (updated at regular intervals) and sound business judgement.

GFF will have initial seed capital of $100,000 transferred from its sole shareholder (Gallipoli Turkish Cultural Foundation Limited) but is expected to be completely self-financed, with surplus funds, from its first year of operation of the GFF and onwards.

Initially, GFF will place members' funds in a sharia compliant low-risk (low-return) investment account with a reputable Australian financial institution from which GFF will be able to access funds as and when it needs to provide its services for members.

As the surplus funds of the GFF increase, it may consider opportunities for using some of the surplus funds in slightly higher return investments. At all times, GFF will adopt a conservative investment strategy, guided by its principal aim of providing services to its members.

In line with its not-for-profit status, any surplus funds will be held by GFF and used for the benefit of the members.

GFF retains professional indemnity insurance (PII) with Dual Australia Pty Ltd and with a limit of $2,500,000 in the aggregate and will continue to maintain PII in accordance with the requirements of ASIC and as an AFSL holder. Members are part of the insured group under this PII.

What are the tax implications if I become a member of GFF? All benefits a member receives will be inclusive of Goods and Services Tax (GST). GFF will be responsible for paying any GST in the Provision of Services and any Equivalent Payment made to a member will be inclusive of GST.

21. Can I access financial statements and audit reports of GFF?

Access to GFF's financial statements and final audit report at the end of each financial year will be available on GFF's web site.

22. Can this PDS be changed?

GFF may, from time to time, update this PDS in accordance with the law. Material changes will be notified to members in writing.

23. How do I make a complaint?

If you have any complaint in connection with GFF, in the first instance, please address such complaint in writing to:
