A simple way to optimise interest from cash

If you held £750,000 in a high street bank account earning 1.15% interest, your projected annual return would be just £8,625.

By using the Insignis platform, you could increase your projected annual interest to £32,850 by accessing a wider range of competitive rates. At the same time, you could achieve full FSCS coverage by spreading deposits across multiple deposit-takers, with up to £120,000 of protection available per eligible person per authorised institution.
