EACH STAY, A STORY

WITH PERSONALITY

A photograph of two white, conical table lamps with brass-colored accents. The lamps are positioned against a green, textured background, possibly a curtain or wall. The lamp on the left is slightly taller and has a brass band around its neck. The lamp on the right is shorter and has a brass band around its base. The word "ARTUS" is overlaid in white serif font across the middle of the image.

LE PIGALLE

PARIS

The Pigalle neighborhood has always attracted artists, musicians, and adventurers.

It lacked a place that embodied its roguish spirit, wild energy, and musical vibe. Thus was born Le Pigalle, an authentic neighborhood hotel whose story was shaped by the cultural melting pot that long animated the southern slope of Montmartre.
