influence and (c) who, by virtue of the authority and responsibility inherent in the post they hold, might be expected to be positively suitable to work with children and vulnerable adults. Providing false information is an offence and could result in the application being rejected or summary dismissal, if the applicant is already in post, and possible referral to the police.

We recognise the contribution that people with criminal records can make as employees and welcome applications from them. A person's criminal record will not, in itself, debar that person from being appointed to this post. Any information given will be treated in the strictest confidence. All cases will be examined on an individual basis. A copy of our Recruitment of Ex-Offenders policy can be made available by contacting our HR team.

All employment offers are made subject to the following checks

As an organisation we believe that the Christian faith provides the foundation and motivation for the work of the charity and is the reason why we do what we do. Our mission to improve, preserve and promote good mental health and wellbeing amongst children, young people and families is borne from Jesus' words; "I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full." John 10:10.

An outworking of our Christian ethos means that we expect all representatives of the charity to treat everyone equally, with care and respect regardless of their race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, ethnic background, beliefs, status, ability or class. The ethos is given life through our relationships; the way we work together and behave with one another and those we serve, are a demonstration and authentication of our ethos.
