

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

December 18, 2025

Whom It May Concern,

I have had the pleasure of working with Herauf Modular with various projects, through its leadership and community partnerships, on a total of seven modular building projects, spanning both commercial and residential developments. Throughout these projects, Herauf Modular has demonstrated a strong understanding of Indigenous community needs, project coordination, and modular construction delivery.

Project Experience Includes:

Commercial

- One commercial dispensary project delivered through a collaborative partnership approach delivered to White Bear First Nation

Residential

- Three residential homes located within White Bear First Nation
- Two residential homes delivered to Pheasant Rump Nakota Nation
- One residential home that was delivered to Little Bone First Nation

Across all projects, Herauf Modular consistently demonstrated professionalism, responsiveness, and a solution focused mindset. Their team showed a strong ability to work with Indigenous leadership, community stakeholders, and external partners while navigating logistical, site specific, and regulatory considerations.

Zagime Anishinabek Nation values partnerships that are built on trust, accountability, and long-term community benefit. Based on our direct experience, Herauf Modular has proven to be a reliable and capable modular construction partner in both residential and commercial applications.

Sincerely,

Dez Standingready
