A Message from the Executive Director

Welcome back to this wonderful space. It is a pleasure to be able to once again produce top quality community theatre and to offer various local, regional and national presentations in the Historic Thomaston Opera House.

The Thomaston Opera House has a long history of outstanding performances and has gained a reputation for excellence throughout the state. The facility is a point of pride for area residents. It is a building like no other.

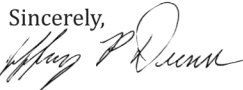

However, that is not the full reason for its popularity. From the first moment I walked through its doors in 1973, I fell in love with it. I could sense the history, the many shows that had come before and the countless people that had participated in the entertainment. There was also a realization of the great potential this little Victorian theatre still had waiting to be discovered. Even today, I continue to witness visitors to the Opera House echo the same feelings I had over 38 years ago.

Since then, I have had the privilege to meet, work, volunteer or entertain with the vast majority of the people to grace this house. The people make the Thomaston Opera House truly unique. Volunteers were responsible for the planning and the building of the Thomaston Opera House in 1884. At every bump and turn of the theatre's history, volunteers were there to insure its future. It will be the volunteers that secure its place in the years to come.

I hope that you enjoy your visit to the Thomaston Opera House tonight and that your experience will follow you home and find a place in your heart. No single individual, group or organization is responsible for the success or failure of Thomaston Opera House or the programs it presents. However, all together they can realize the full potential this theatre has to offer.

The Thomaston Opera House has become a historic "Landmark". That is the significance of our name, Landmark Community Theatre. We are dedicated to mission of the Thomaston Opera House. I hope you will share our passion and join us in our efforts. Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey P. Dunn
Executive Director
