1. DEFINITIONS

Europe

The diagram below illustrates, as at January 17th, 2025, European countries membership and adhesion to various statutes, mechanisms and regulations existing in Europe.

(*) European regulation 260/2012 dated 14/03/2012 is applicable to EEA member countries.

BIC

Business Identifier Code, international code of identification of the banks. We mention the BIC on your bank branch identification form ("R.I.B") and your statements of account.

IBAN

International Bank Account Number, account number following the international standards. We mention the IBAN on your bank branch identification form ("R.I.B") and your statements of account.

European Transfer

According to the definition of the European regulation 260/2012 dated 14/03/2012 a European transfer (also known as "pan-European") is a cross-border non-urgent remittance without foreign exchange in euros or in another currency of a country member of the EEA if it has notified its decision to apply this regulation, whose order comprises the BIC and the IBAN of the recipient, and whose expenses are divided ("SHA").

This definition is likely to evolve at any moment according to the regulation.

SEPA Credit Transfer and Direct Debit

Since August 1, 2014, SEPA Credit Transfer (also known as "SCT" or "Standard Credit Transfer") and SEPA Direct Debit (also known as "SDD") have fully replaced domestic transfers and direct debits.

2 types of SDD exist:

- « CORE » for the largest public
- « B2B » (Business to Business) for transactions between companies.

Electronic payment

Electronic payment is considered as:

- Every file remitted and accepted through EBICS
- Every payment remitted through Mizuho Global e-Banking using a Payment method
- Every file remitted through Mizuho Global e-Banking Multi-purpose, as long as it is accepted by our payment platform

Mandatory information

BIC* and IBAN are mandatory for all remittances carried out inside the E.E.A. (*except using latest Sepa rulebook)

Additionally, in accordance with regulation 2015/847 dated May 20th, 2015, the complete references of the client (name, address, account number) must be communicated to the bank of the beneficiary for all international transfer orders.

Since April 1st, 2015, the complete references of the beneficiary must also be communicated for each transfer request in US Dollars (USD) and for each transfer request in any currency if it is executed by a bank located in the United States.

2. CONDITIONS

The present conditions are likely to be modified at any moment. Any change will be brought to your attention before the date of effect.

2.1. TVA

The tariffs mentioned in the following pages are expressed in euros and net of tax or expressed as a percentage and net of tax unless otherwise specified. The operations subjected to VAT are brought to your attention. VAT is then calculated at the applicable rate at the date of the operation.

2.2. Value dates

The majority of operations have the same day value date. The main other principal applicable value dates are as follows :

Debit transactions

Overdraft (debit interests)	D+1 calendar day
Highest overdraft comm.	D+1 calendar day
Debit turnover comm.	D+1 calendar day
Foreign exchange	D
(other than foreign exchange contracts)

Credit transactions

Foreign exchange	D+2 business days (other than foreign exchange contracts)
------------------	---

2.3. Lead-time

The majority of the operations are treated on the same day, subject to the respect of cut-off time for reception of orders. However some operations require a longer lead-time:

SDD 1 business day

2.4. Charged account

By default, we will respect the charge account indicated in your payment file. If no charge account is indicated, we will charge the account from which the funds are sent.

You can also decide to override this latest rule by designating a specific charge account.

2.5. Reception of orders

To ensure processing within the deadlines, some operations are subject to time constraints:

D = Operation date

D -1 = 1 day before the operation

D -2 = 2 days before the operation

D -2 business days

SDD B2B

(1) Indicated in your transfer order. Delays may result from national holidays affecting the remittance currency and/or national holidays happening in the remittance receiving country. (i.e., Japan in the case of JPY)

(2) AED, AUD, CHF, CNH, CNY, CZK, DKK, HKD, HUF, NOK, PLN, RON, RUB, SEK, SGD, THB, TRY, ZAR

We remind you that the date which has to figure in your non-SEPA payment orders should be the theoretical date of credit of the funds on the beneficiary's account, in accordance with the cut-off hours.

2.6. Foreign exchange operations

Spot forex [except contracts]

Debit and credit operations in currencies other than the one of your account are converted at the fixing rate determined daily by Mizuho Bank.

Mizuho Bank applies a margin on the fixing rate.

Forward forex

A quotation can be obtained upon request to your relationship manager.

The foreign exchange market being over-the-counter market, the price of execution is likely to vary and depends on the conditions of market and the amount of the orders.

Account substitution

In case Mizuho Paris receives funds to credit your account and the currency of the funds is not the currency of the beneficiary account, Mizuho Paris will verify if you do not have an account in the currency of the transfer.

If such, Mizuho will credit the funds to this account in the same currency of the transfer, to avoid a foreign exchange. If you want to derogate to that rule and always credit the beneficiary account quoted in the payment, regardless the currency, you can ask us for changing from the default behavior.

2.7. Tariff by thresholds (Non-SEPA Transfers)
