Additionally, the Fund paid monthly distributions of $0.8550 per share, totaling $10.26 per share, inline with its objective to provide reliable monthly distributions consisting of income and principal through 2055.

WHAT FACTORS INFLUENCED PERFORMANCE

The Fund’s performance is largely based on the performance of the market for inflation-protected bonds issued by the U.S. Treasury. Periods of falling real interest rates will generally correspond to positive performance, and periods of rising real interest rates will generally correspond to negative performance.

PERFORMANCE COMMENTARY

In 2025, the Fund’s performance primarily reflects interest earnings from its U.S. government bond portfolio. Market interest rates, and therefore bond prices, were relatively stable year over year. The Fund’s strategy is designed to “lock in” interest rates such that it can reliably sustain its planned distributions, the Adviser believes the Fund’s 2025 performance is consistent with that objective.
