The Book of Genesis

The Torah, or Books of the Law, are known as the Pentateuch = Five Books.

Title: Genesis means Beginning, from the first word in the Hebrew Bible - Genesis 1:1
The Hebrew word is Bereshith.

Author: All of the Pentateuch is traced to Moses. Though he obviously was not an eyewitness to all of the Pentateuch, the entire work is attributed to him.

Certain brief passages most likely were added by the final editor of the Pentateuch. For example, Moses death and burial - Deuteronomy 34:5-12
Passage which extols Moses' greatness - Exodus 11:3
Moses' humility - Numbers 12:3

We can affirm that Moses received this material by divine revelation. No one witnessed the creation. In fact, for 5½ days, there was no one to witness it.

Would anyone else qualify for direct revelation as Moses did?

He pleased God
God spoke with him face to face – Exodus 33

Date: Genesis covers the time period from the creation to death of Joseph - 1600 or 1800 BC ?

However, the Pentateuch itself was probably put in its final form sometime before 1000BC.

Genesis 36:31 indicates the final editor did not live before the days of King Saul - 1050BC and he must have written before the time of King David – 1010BC
