

Smart design for smart spaces.

Designed for the realities of campus life.

Campuses are constantly evolving, but their purpose remains the same—to help students learn, grow, and belong. Today's challenge is doing all that within tighter budgets, faster timelines, and spaces that have to do more than ever. With enrollment pressures on the rise, colleges and universities must create environments that attract and retain students while supporting new ways of learning and connection.

At Source, we make it easier to keep up with what students need and what institutions expect. We design furniture for real campus life—beautiful, durable, and built to adapt. Backed by responsive support and simplified procurement, we help you create inspiring spaces that stand up to daily use and deliver lasting value.
