Modern Slavery & Human Trafficking

At Livity Life, we are committed to acting ethically, operating responsibly and protecting individuals from exploitation.

We have a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery and human trafficking and are committed to identifying, preventing and addressing modern slavery risks within our organisation and supply chains.

What Is Modern Slavery?

Modern slavery is a crime and a violation of fundamental human rights.

It can take many forms, including slavery, servitude, forced or compulsory labour and human trafficking. These practices involve the exploitation of individuals for personal or commercial gain.

Our Commitment

We are committed to acting with integrity in all our business relationships and taking appropriate steps to ensure modern slavery is not taking place within our organisation or supply chains.

We expect the same high standards from our suppliers, partners and contractors and take action where concerns are identified.

Speaking Up

We encourage employees, suppliers, service users and members of the public to raise concerns where they believe modern slavery, human trafficking or exploitation may be taking place.
Concerns will be taken seriously and reviewed appropriately.

If you have concerns relating to modern slavery, please contact us:

Our Approach

We support our commitment through:
✓ Policies and governance arrangements
✓ Employee training and awareness
✓ Supplier due diligence activities
✓ Incident reporting and speaking up arrangements
✓ Regular review of modern slavery risks

We will continue to review and strengthen our approach as part of our commitment to ethical business practices.
